

THE VERNON RECORD

Semi-Weekly—Tuesdays and Fridays

VOLUME 13.

VERNON, WILBARGER COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1921

NUMBER 57

OKLAUNION GIRL IS FIRST IN STATE CLOTHING CONTEST

Ramal Butler Also Wins Third Prize at A. & M. on Canning While Vynetta Little of Harrold Is Given Fourth Prize on Clothing—School Outfits Were Submitted.

Wilbarger county stands high among the winners in the clothing and canning contests conducted at the State Agricultural and Mechanical College this week for girls. Oklaunion and Harrold are the two communities whose representatives won the honors.

First prize in clothing goes to Ramal Butler of Oklaunion. She also won third prize on her exhibition of canned articles. Vynetta Little of Harrold was given fourth place on sewing exhibit. The contest was open to girls from all over Texas.

These two young women won in the county contest held here July 16, with scores on clothing exhibition of 97.13 and 96 per cent respectively. They submitted the same outfits at College Station.

Miss Little has taken sewing in the Harrold high school, while Miss Butler has done quite a little of the sewing in her club work.

Make Entire Outfit.

Outfits submitted had to consist of a school dress, a princess slip or petticoat and corset cover, and a pair of teddies all made by the girl herself. She wore her dress while it was being judged and with it hat, shoes and stockings suitable for school. The three latter things were taken into consideration when the outfit as a whole was scored.

The school outfits submitted by Miss Butler and Miss Little were unusually attractive and well made for girls of 16 and 15, according to the opinion of the local judges, Mrs. O. A. Brunson, Mrs. A. C. Boger, and Mrs. Shirley Cook. Miss Butler's dress was of blue chambray made after the style of a Hoffman middie suit. The suit of underwear submitted by her was of cambric, made rather plain except for the handwork on the hems. Miss Little's dress was of blue and white check gingham trimmed with solid blue and white rickrack braid. Her suit of underwear was also of cambric and was trimmed with crochet lace.

VERNON DEFEATS CHILLICOTHE.

Local Legion Team Wins Tuesday's Game by Score of 8 to 5.

The Vernon post of the American Legion defeated Chillicothe in a close game of ball Tuesday at the fair park. Chillicothe played a fair game of ball but was outplayed by the Vernon Boys from the first inning. The score was eight to five in favor of Vernon.

MILITIA WILL BE SWORN IN FIRST OF NEXT WEEK

The local company of Texas National Guard will be mustered in the first of next week, according to an announcement of officers made this morning. A special officer will be here for the purpose. Captain Clyde Watts urges those who have not yet received notification to come to the local office immediately for a physical examination and to complete enlistment papers.

Between 55 and 60 members have joined the local militia company. Sixty-five men is the goal set. The soldiers will go to the militia camp at Austin August 14 and remain ten days.

Picnic for Memphis Guests.

Miss Ethel Haney was hostess at a picnic Thursday evening in Alvingham Park in honor of Miss Elsie Bass of Memphis, Texas. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fulcher, Mrs. G. E. Blackman, Miss Minnie King, Miss Bass and Miss Haney. Messrs. Walter Hoffman, Marvin McNutt, N. B. Hodge, S. E. Porterfield, and Luther Strelt.

COUNTY VALUATION FOR PAST YEAR BREAKS RECORD

Worth of Wilbarger Is Placed By Assessor At $17,180,630—Exceeds Figures of Previous Annum by $889,989—Reports Still Coming In—Will Net Revenue Around $95,000.

The total valuation of Wilbarger county for the past year, according to figures compiled by the county assessor, is $17,180,630. This represents an increase of $889,989 over the valuation of last year which was placed at $16,290,641.

This amount, it is expected, will be augmented somewhat by reports which are still coming in, thus raising the total still more. The valuation is the largest ever possessed by Wilbarger county. Wichita county, in the estimation of the county assessor, will be the only neighbor to equal or surpass the local valuation. Foard and Harde-man counties, it is said are considerably below the amount.

Nets Large Revenue.

The State tax rate has as yet not been established, but the county rate will be fifty-five cents on the hundred dollars valuation. This will provide approximately $94,493.46 for Wilbarger.

WICHITA VISITORS HERE.

C. M. Mann Says Medicine Park Is One of Greatest Outing Spots in Southwest.

C. M. Mann and family are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baird in Northwest Vernon. They came Wednesday.

Roads between Wichita Falls and Vernon are fine, according to Mr. Mann, who says that Wichita county has found it necessary to place two motorcycle cops on the paved road between that place and Iowa Park, and make the speed limit 25 miles between Iowa Park and Electra the pavement is being laid, and travelers detour via Kemp City.

Mr. Mann and S. E. Trevathan recently returned from an outing in Medicine Park, which the former characterizes as the greatest outing place he has found in the Southwest. The water is wonderfully clear, fishing and swimming are fine, and the scenery is magnificent. A man can climb Mount Scott, Mr. Mann says, and see the deer going from one bottom to another in numbers any morning. They have a trail between Mount Scott and Mount Wichita.

ODELL ORCHARD OWNER SELLS $150 WORTH OF PEACHES

W. T. Becknell, who lives one and a half miles south of Odell, has sold up to date $150 worth of peaches from his four acre orchard. Counting what he has used himself and what he has given away he estimates that more than a hundred bushels have been gathered. Mr. Becknell says his fruit began ripening the first of June and that he will continue to have peaches until October first.

There are peaches of several varieties in this orchard; some are Elbertas, some are other species of freestone and some are cling, the name of which the owner does not know. The fruit is as nearly perfect as any he has ever seen. Mr. Becknell reports, and the yield is as large. Many branches have been borne entirely to the ground with their burdens.

LOCAL PAVING WORK SOON TO BE COMPLETED

Work at paving Vernon streets will soon be completed. West Pease is already finished, and South Main will have the finishing touches put on it shortly.

Nothing further will be done toward paving the remainder of South Main Street, R. H. Standifer, local superintendent, stated yesterday. The one block, reaching from Marshall to Paradise streets, will aid immensely in communication between paved sections of the town, he said, but the remainder of the project has been abandoned. It was inadvertently stated in a previous issue of The Record that only half of the street between the Bailey Hotel and Carnegie library on North Cumberland Street would be paved, but all of it will be surfaced.

WASHINGTON STATUTE PRESENTED TO ENGLAND BY U. S.

The George Washington Statue in Trafalgar Square, London, which is the gift of the State of Virginia to the British Empire. It was unveiled by Miss Judith Brewer and was accepted by Earl Curzon on behalf of His Majesty's Government. The photo shows some of the American Civil War veterans at the foot of the statue after the unveiling.

FEATURE MATCH SCHEDULED MONDAY

ACKERMAN AND GOTCH WILL MEET IN LOCAL ARENA FOR SECOND TIME.

Al Ackerman and Young Gotch are scheduled to meet at the arena at E. Texas and S. Cumberland Sts. Monday night in what the Vernon Athletic Club considers one of the best wrestling matches ever staged in Texas. Both principals are working hard for the contest and the red thinned Irishman is returning to Vernon Sunday with the determination to pin the husky Greek to the mat.

Gotch is fresh from his recent victory over Calleo and is working daily in the local club quarters. Ackerman has won three matches since his defeat here July 4, and reports that he has fully recovered from the injury to his arm which many credit as having cost him the match. Those who witnessed the grapplers on the nation's holiday will recall the high excellence and knowledge of the game displayed by both wrestlers, and it is a rare assumption that the go Monday will be a feature in every respect.

Women Are Invited.

Women are especially invited to be present by the Athletic Club. Thus far attendance at the events here has been extremely slim, and it is reported that $15 was lost on the match between Gotch and Calleo. The Vernon Athletic Club is desirous of retrieving the losses sustained in the last two matches as well as netting a sum for the benefit of the organization.

Wrestling and boxing preliminaries will commence at 8:30 p. m. and will be staged by members of the club. Admission will be $1.00 at the ringside, and general admission will be $0.55 war tax included in both prices.

KEMP CITY BURNED OUT.

Fire Destroys Oil Field Town West of Wichita Falls With Loss of $15,000.

Kemp City is only a pile of blackened embers and memory. The chief municipality of the Kemp-Munger-Alten district in Wichita county was partially wiped out by fire starting at midnight Monday. No casualties resulted.

The origin of the fire is unknown. All of the buildings were frame structures, three being two stories high. They were erected during the boom days of 1919 and 1920. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Special Meeting of Legion.

A special meeting of the American Legion will be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock in the district court room for the purpose of discussing the present difficulty between the Legislature and the Legion. Resolutions will be suggested and acted upon. All members are urged to be present.

Will Give Father and Son Luncheon.

A Father and Son luncheon will be given next Monday noon by the Manual Training Club of the First Christian Church in the church parlors. The meal will be served from 12 to 1 o'clock.

OPERATORS ARE NOT TAKEN WITH STILL

OFFICERS FIND 50-GALLON BOLLER AND TEN BARRELS OF MASH.

A highly effective outfit for the making of intoxicating liquors was captured yesterday by Sheriff W. A. Ish. According to Mr. Ish, the manufacturers had probably been operating for two months, but had kept themselves hidden until last Friday when Mr. Ish smelled a mouse and trailed the scent south. He kept quite about his suspicions until he had enough evidence to know the approximate location.

Early Friday morning, Mr. Ish with two deputies, F. A. N. O'Neal and J. W. Carrington, left Vernon in Mr. Ish's car "loaded for bear." They headed for the old Thaxton place about eight miles south of Rock crossing on Caver creek. According to Mr. Ish, he wasn't over-burdened by the information he was able to gather from the residents of the suspected locality and had to follow his own intuition; and that peculiar faculty aided by a sensitive nose led to the capture.

Abandon Ford Car.

Sheriff Ish and his deputies had to run their car through brakes, creeks, and thorn thickets, and when the Ford could go no further, they depended upon their feet to carry them through. They reached Minnow creek, and wading through mud and briars, they finally reached the suspected territory; but the task was only started.

Trees, thickets, and giant weeds were so thick the eyes could carry only a few yards, and there were miles to cover. They covered every inch of the ground as they advanced, up the creek and were within twenty yards of the still when their highly susceptible nasal organs detected the desired odor. Following the scent, they located the outfit on the banks of Minnow creek. The operators had disappeared and no arrests were made.

An Efficient Outfit.

According to the belief of the three men, the operators were well acquainted with their business. They had a fifty gallon steel keg for a boiler and had a large funnel soldered on one side of this barrel, and from the top of this funnel, the coil ran to the cooling barrel where water was kept cool by a pump from the creek. When the steam from the mash had condensed in the coil it ran out into a vat of charcoal where it was clarified.

They found ten barrels of mash made from meal, cornchops and canned peaches. Very little of the real stuff was located; but according to Mr. Ish, that which was found was of a superior quality and was as clear as water. Both the mash and the finished product was poured into the creek, and the empty barrels and still were brought to town this morning on Mr. O'Neal's truck.

Much excitement was caused when the outfit was parked in front of the court house, and many were deciding to go fishing when it was found that the mash and whiskey had been poured into the creek.

WILL BURY ARTHUR LLOYD'S BABY HERE

SECOND OPERATION FOR REMOVAL OF SAFETY PIN FROM STOMACH IS FATAL.

Funeral services for the seven-months-old child of Arthur Lloyd of Oklahoma City will be held at the residence of A. A. Lloyd in Vernon at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The body will be buried in East View cemetery. The baby swallowed an open safety pin the other day in San Angelo, and it was announced that a successful operation had been performed for removal of the pin. A second operation became necessary, which was too much for the little sufferer, who succumbed Thursday morning.

Following is a statement of the mishap taken from the San Angelo Reporter:

An open safety pin, nearly an inch and a half long, which had been swallowed on July 3 by the seven-months-old child of Mrs. Lloyd of Oklahoma City, who is here visiting her sister, Mrs. R. D. Freeman, was removed from the stomach of the child at St. John's Sanitarium Friday afternoon by means of an operation. She child is reported to be recovering rapidly and physicians are of the opinion that no ill effects will result from the operation.

The case is one of the most interesting which has ever come before the local medical profession. The X-Ray was used in locating the pin. The child swallowed the pin July 3 and physicians treated the case continuously until the operation was found necessary. No symptoms developed to show that the pin had lodged in the stomach and it remained only for the X-Ray to disclose this fact. Physicians took X-Ray pictures every day during the two weeks and were able to watch closely the results of the treatment. A clear outline of the open pin in the stomach showed up in each X-Ray picture.

Every effort was made to dislodge the pin but it being open, it stuck into the tissues of the wall of the stomach and could not be dislodged.

FORMER VERNON PASTOR IS MISSIONARY TO KOREA

Women of the Presbyterian Church of Vernon are getting ready a number of gift packages for Rev. and Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy, who are making plans to sail as missionaries to Korea. These packages are to be opened each day of the voyage.

Mr. Murphy was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Vernon located on South Main street, where F. L. Massie's home has been built. He left here about the time the two local churches were consolidated some three years ago.

Plains Visitors Return.

A. Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Heath of Wichita Falls came in last night from the South Plains, where they have been visiting Mrs. Dr. Moody. Mrs. Moody is a daughter of Mr. Allison and a sister of Mrs. Heath.

BARGAIN DAY TO FEATURE VERNON TRADE ACTIVITY

Second Monday of Each Month Is Set Aside For Offering Of Special Values—Co-operative Advertising Plan Will Be Followed—Merchants Lend Enthusiastic Support.

A bargain day on the second Monday of every month will feature trade activity in Vernon in the future, according to a campaign decided upon yesterday by chamber of commerce officials and local merchants. The plan provides that the merchants will give special bargains on that day and but two specials will be allotted to each dealer. No two merchants are to offer the same special bargains on the same day.

It is proposed to give away registered live stock each sales day.

The bargains which various merchants plan to offer on bargain day are to be put in a large co-operative advertisement. This will contain the specials of the individual merchants. These advertisements are to be submitted to the chamber of commerce at least ten days before Vernon Bargain Day, so they can be passed on by a committee of representative merchants. This committee will see that the articles offered as bargains are actually special values, and will also see that no two merchants inadvertently conflict with each other on their specials.

The plan also contemplates an auction where farmers can bring anything they wish to sell and it will be disposed of without any charge for the auctioneer's commission on the first Bargain Day.

Firms Sign Up.

Those firms which have thus far signified their intention of supporting the movement and which have signed a contract to that effect are: Perkins-Timberlake, Baker Bros. Drug Store, Pictorium, H. C. Russell & Sons, Teath & Thompson, William Cameron & Co., Kramer Studio, T. J. Youngblood, Parker-Donges Grocery Co., Swartwood & Co., C. W. Oliver, Freeman Bros., J. A. McFall, Hawkins-Williams Furniture Co., Brunson & Williams, Vernon Grocery Co., City News Stand, Candyland, E. M. Leutwyler, Ferguson Drug Co., Bennett & Rogers, Service Auto Supply Co., Times Publishing Co., and More's Theater.

The committee visiting merchants with the petition is composed of W. C. Baker, J. H. Timberlake, and Curtis Renfro.

MANY AT BIRTHDAY JUBILEE.

H. P. Starr of White City Has Celebrated July 27 With Friends For Fifteen Years.

H. P. Starr of White City was host to members of his family and a number of friends with a birthday party at his home Wednesday, July 27. Mr. Starr has made this an annual affair for fifteen years, and members of his family look forward to July 27 with more enthusiasm than they do to Thanksgiving or Christmas.

Visitors began to congregate as early as 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, and long before time for the big dinner, the number had exceeded the capacity of the monster table. However, room was made for all, and the dinner proved a success. In the afternoon young members of the merry-makers drove to a nearby lake and enjoyed a swim.

Those present were: P. E. Starr and family of Wellington, W. P. Starr and family of Odell, S. B. Starr and family of Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kester of Odell, Dan Boone and family of White City, Grant Harris of Fort Worth, H. S. Starr and family of Vernon, W. B. Germany and family of White City, Walter Starr and family of Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Olen Turner of Vernon.

FINISH HARROLD TEACHERAGE

Two Story Home With Modern Conveniences Will Have Accommodations for Eight Teachers.

Harrold will have a home for its teachers this year. The building is being finished today. It is two stories and contains eight rooms, or frame construction.

The teacherage is modern, and compares favorably with the splendid agricultural high school at that place. Harrold employs eight teachers.

BANKERS SANGUINE IN REFERENCE TO TRADE CONDITIONS

Local Money Dealers Believe Wheat Harvest Provided Saving Grace—Less Tendency on Part of Patrons To Borrow—Approaching Cotton Gathering and Will Aid Immensely.

Optimism is manifested on the part of local bankers in regard to business and general industrial conditions in Vernon and Vernon trade territory. The past wheat harvest bolstered wonderfully the hopes of merchants and patrons as well for relief from the depression that has made itself felt over the entire country.

Although there has been no material increase in bank deposits nor stimulus in the movement of money, there has been more of a tendency to reduce loans and less inclination to ask for additional funds. The money gained through the sale of grain has provided the means to make needed purchases and farmers have been able to avoid borrowing to furnish necessities.

Is Temporary Stimulus.

The present increase in trade is but a temporary stimulus due to the wheat harvest, in the opinion of G. C. Morris of the Herring National Bank. Merchants have become more optimistic, he said, and report better business than for some time.

In about another month said Mr. Morris, the first of the cotton crop will be gathered and this is expected to prove a decided help. With its aid and the general upward trend matters should adjust themselves. A comparison with last year cannot be made due to the fact that at that time Vernon was still under the effects of the oil boom and prices were still going up.

Loans Reduced Little.

There is little alteration this month over last in respect to retraction of loans, according to Emory Rhoads of the Farmers State Bank. The wheat crop has not stimulated trade as much as it has simply served to enhance it and prove a saving factor in industrial conditions. A considerable amount of money was thus put into circulation.

Mr. Rhoads is under the impression that there will be a turn for the better before long. The cotton crop, although materially smaller, is promising.

Big Feed Crop.

There is a tendency to reduce loans, said L. G. Hawkins of the Waggoner National Bank, but not much change in individual deposits. Prospects point to a fruitful year in regard to Wilbarger county crops and this will undoubtedly prove a saving factor.

The cost of moving the cotton crop will be much smaller this year, he said. Chopping and picking have been effectively reduced in price. Prospects point to a bumper feed crop in Wilbarger county and this item is always of immense assistance to the farmers.

Money Devoted to Expenses.

The wheat crop has stimulated Vernon trade, said J. T. Glover of the First Guaranty State Bank. However, much of the money gained has gone for expenses and has been spread out over a great deal of territory. Merchants report collections better, he said, but the money has in turn been sent to the wholesalers. However, the general situation is improved and with the cotton crop coming on the outlook is not in the least pessimistic.

IS RECRUITING HERE FOR TEXAS MILITARY COLLEGE

Col. Louis C. Perry, president and founder of The Texas Military College at Terrell, Texas, is in Vernon today recruiting students for the college. Col. Perry reports that the "T. M. C." at Terrell was the only military school of second class that met government standards for S. A. T. C. during the war.

Standard courses are offered from the seventh grade through Junior College, and the graduates are admitted without examination to college or university. Col. Perry plans to leave tomorrow, for he has to cover all West Texas as soon as possible.

Vernon Man Weds Floydaca Girl.

Guy J. Shaffer, formerly of Vernon, and Miss Louise Colville of Floydada, were married at the home of the bride July 18. They will make their home in Los Angeles, Calif. The groom is a brother of John A. Shaffer of Vernon.

Today and Saturday—Alice Brady in "Out of the Chorus."

This photoplay takes the spectator behind the scenes and gives him a close-up of the life of a chorus girl. Miss Brady takes the part of a number of the chorus who marries a wealthy man. The ceremony displeases his parents who make life as miserable as possible for the young girl. She rises to the occasion, however, and shows them that her character is really more spotless than theirs.

Monday—"The Dwelling Place of Light," by Winston Churchill.

Janet Butler is secretary to Claude Dittmar, general manager of the Hampton Mills. Dittmar is carrying on a clandestine affair with Elsie, Janet's younger sister, and at the same time is making advances toward Janet. Elsie, faced with a terrible problem, finally leaves home and Janet learns the true nature of her employer. The men under him strike and she takes their side and helps out their families in the suffering caused by the lack of work for the men. In this work she meets Brooks Insall with whom she falls in love. Her mother shoots Dittmar and Janet is held for the crime. Insall clears her, however and brings little Elsie back to her mother. Then he and Janet face a sunlit future.

Today—"The Call of Youth."

Two young persons hear the call of youth to youth and mate to mate. In spite of their love for each other the girl is persuaded to marry the man who is helping her uncle and guardian out of financial difficulties. On the eve of the wedding day, with the youth in far away Africa, the girl realizes what she is doing and refuses to marry the man she does not love. He then goes to Africa and brings back the one she does love.

Saturday—Pearl White in "Beyond Price."

This is the story of Sally Marrio who is married to Phillip Marrio a designer of shoes who gives her all his time to his business. While Sally sits sadly at home one day a Gypsy comes and sells her a wishing book into which she writes three wishes. That she may be the wife of a millionaire, that she may be a famous woman and that she may feed a baby's arm around her neck. These wishes have a most peculiar way of coming true, but she gets them all just the same.

Monday—"813"

"813" is a mystery story in which Wedgwood Nowell plays the stellar role. Robert Castleback returns from Africa where he has "cornered" the diamond industry. All the wealth in the world is his but he is not satisfied. He craves power and tries to carry out a scheme which he believes will place a long lost prince on the throne and himself become the real ruler of Europe.

Long Orange, Jr., weighs 1,000 pounds. He is two years old. In fact, weighing the big Poland China male was a part of his second birthday celebration.

Among the herds of swine over Northwest Texas which are attracting attention, perhaps none has better blood lines than that of A. M. Bourland and Marvin Sharp. Long Orange, Jr., is head of the herd. He is a son of Long Orange, the famous $5,000 hog belonging to Alexander, Michie & Jones of Childress.

Long Orange, Jr., won third prize at the State Fair last fall, despite the fact that he was two and a half months under age. Messrs. Bourland and Sharp have more than 100 registered Poland Chinas, and their interest expect it will be only a short time when their hogs are sought after by breeders all over the Southwest. A gift in their herd tipped the beam at 525 pounds recently when she was only one year old.

SMALL, ILLINOIS GOVERNOR IS HELD AS AN EMBEZZLER

Governor Len Small, of Illinois, who has been indicted by the Sangamon County, Ill., Grand Jury, with Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling and Vernon Curtis, a banker, charged with embezzling $700,000 of the State's funds. The alleged embezzlement occurred during the administration of Governor Small and Lieutenant Governor Sterling as State Treasurer. The indictments followed an investigation into a $10,000,000 loan of State funds to Armour & Co. and Swift & Co., Chicago packers.

GOLF FINALS MAY BE PLAYED AGAIN*INDECISION OVER TECHNICALITY
LEAVES WINNER UN-DETERMINED.

Dispute over a technicality in the golf finals played Wednesday between Jed Morrow and E. C. Christian rendered a final decision in regard to the winner impossible and it is probable that the match will be played over again. This arrangement is being left to the golf committee. The controversy, entirely friendly, arose over whether or not Mr. Christian touched with his club a ball which rolled down from its tee.

In the semi-finals Tuesday Morrow and Christian were the victors. Morrow defeated R. B. Gibson 106 to 116, and Christian won over Morris 95 to 105.

The consolation flights will commence Monday. A pair of golf shoes will be awarded the winner, and golf stockings the runner up.

DIVORCE CASE SET FOR NEXT FRIDAY

WOMANLESS WEDDING, PRINCIPAL THING OF MATRIMONIAL BLESSINGS.

Oh yez, oh yez, oh yez! A sensational divorce case will be tried in Vernon at the Opera House Friday night, August 5, at 8:30 o'clock. Prominent local legal experts will participate in a battle of wits and it is rumored that an abundance of scandal will be aired. Prominent witnesses have been summoned and the courtroom will in all likelihood be filled by some of the rarest beauties in this section as well.

It is all because the principals in the womanless wedding which occurred two years ago this month have become lackadaisical in reference to the joys of wedded bliss and desire a separation. The entire bridal party which took part in the marriage here at that time will be in court next week to a person.

Musical And Singing.

The case will come up before Judge W. D. Berry who is quoted by those versed in the technology of courts as an authority on trials of this nature. Attorneys represented will be J. D. L. Killough, John Storey, W. N. Stokes, R. H. Coffey, and M. C. Embertson. There will be music and singing in spite of the severity of the occasion during recesses of court.

The entire proceedings will be staged for the benefit of the Texas Civic League.

TO START BIBLE INSTITUTE

Classes Will Be Conducted at Oklahoma Daily For One Week Commencing July 31.

A feature in church educational work in Wilbarger county is embodied in a Bible institute which will commence at Oklahoma July 31 and last through August 6. The work will under the direction of Rev. W. M. Read of the Baptist church.

Courses in the Bible will be taught and there will be a sermon each evening. Any worker will be welcomed into the classes regardless of denomination. Classes will be conducted each day.

The work will be as follows: Primary and women's work—Mrs. W. M. Read; B. Y. P. U.—Rev. W. M. Read; Soul Winning—Rev. W. T. Rouse. Reverend Rouse will preach the sermons each night.

STAR WITNESS IN BASEBALL SCANDAL.

Bill Burns, self-confessed "fixer" of the World Series games now being investigated in Chicago, was on the witness stand for twelve hours. Through these long, weary hours he went through a grueling examination which none of the attorneys for the defense could shatter. Burns, who had been promised immunity for his story, said he was promised $1,000 by the White Sox players, since indicted, for acting as a go-between for them and the gamblers, but, he added, he never got the money. The photo shows Burns as he appeared on the stand during the grilling.

INCOME STATEMENT FILED BY 176,547 TEXAS PEOPLE

Texas citizens to the number of 176,547 made personal income tax returns for the calendar year of 1919, as shown by figures from the Internal Revenue Bureau returning net income to the total of $643,172,201, which was 3.18 per cent of the total incomes returned to the Government, and they paid in tax $32,302,280, or 2.45 per cent of the total tax paid. But 3.79 of the State's total population filed returns, and the average net income reported by them was $3,643.07 for each person reporting. The average per capita amount of income tax paid by Texans was $182.06.

Residents of Oklahoma to the number of 61,500 made returns for that year, returning a net income of $212, 184,201, which was 1.22 per cent of the total returned, and they paid in tax $12,207,129, less than 1 per cent of the total tax paid the Government. Three per cent of the total population made returns and the average net income was $3,937.96.

For the entire country the number of persons making returns for the calendar year of 1919 was 5,322,760, and the total amount of income reported was $19,839,491,448. The average income per return was $3,721.45. There were filed sixty-five returns, showing net incomes of $1,000,000 and over. The largest number of returns was 1,924,872, filed by persons with incomes from $1,000 to $2,000.

DEWEY LYON'S BODY REACHES NEW YORK

JACKSON SPRINGS BOY WAS KILLED IN FRANCE THREE YEARS AGO.

The remains of George Dewey Lyon, Wilbarger county boy who made the supreme sacrifice for his country during the world war, have been received in Hoboken, New York. A telegram to this effect was received Thursday morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyon of Jackson Springs.

Mr. Lyon was in Vernon yesterday for the purpose of filing an answer to this message, which action is necessary before the bodies of soldier dead are sent on from port of destination to their former home. When the remains are received in Vernon, the young hero will be laid to rest in East View cemetery with military honors.

George Dewey Lyon was a member of Company K, 144th Infantry. He served with that company on the Mexican border, and was transferred later to Camp Bowie, from whence he went to France with the 36th Division. He was 20 years old. His life was taken by an enemy bullet September 12, 1918. Two months later word was received in Vernon to the effect that Dewey Lyon had been killed in action. It was a casual message from Sam Randall, a cousin, who had been wounded, and was writing to his mother. He suggested, "I suppose you knew that Dewey was killed during the fighting in September."

Later on two other boys wrote home that they had seen the Jackson Springs soldier, well and happy. Unfortunately, this was not correct. It was some months later before official notice was received by his parents of their son's fatal mishap.

E. M. Rogers' Home Near Completion.

E. M. Rogers' new home on south Cumberland will be completed and turned over to him next week by Contractor G. C. Hill. Mr. Rogers' house will be a two-story structure modern throughout. It will contain ten rooms, two baths, and a hall running the length of the house on the second floor. The outside will be set off by two large porches and also by the size of the extending rafters, which are made of four-by-four material.

C. M. Flench of Kansas City was in Vernon Wednesday visiting friends in this city.

INTERMEDIATE C. E. WILL GIVE FOLLOWING PROGRAM

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church will give the following program at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the subject of "Indians": Scripture lesson, Isaiah 61:2; song; the Lord's Prayer in unison; song; sentence prayers; questions; 1. Where did the Indians come from? 2. Tell about good Indians; 3. Tell about bad ones in history; 4. Tell about some noted Indians in history; 5. What of the Indians of today? 6. What is the U. S. A. doing for the Indians? 7. What is the Church doing for the Indians? Indian arrows; A quiz on famous Missionaries to the Indians; closing song; Mizpah benediction. Robert Stokes will be the leader of the meeting.

Odd Fellows Notice.

The local I. O. O. F. will meet Monday night for degree work, and also take up some routine business. Refreshments will be served. Let every member be present as we want a good representation.

Cemetery Association to Meet.

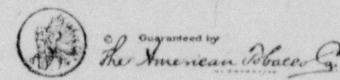

The Cemetery Association is called to meet in the basement of the Carnegie library at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Matters of importance are to be transacted.

MONEY FOR EXPERIMENT WORK.

People generally will approve the action of the Legislative Finance Committee if the seven agricultural experiment stations for which appropriations were originally stricken out have been restored. The amount necessary to carry on experimental work in various sections of the State was negligible. It was even more infinitesimal in comparison with the results that have been realized from the experiments carried on, and which may be expected.

Experimentation is responsible for the marvelous advancement of the 20th Century in industry, in science, and in agriculture. In no other way is efficiency achieved and waste eliminated.

Without experimentation the world
 would have not even the steam engine,
 the telephone, telegraph or the phonograph. Farmers would be without the cotton gin, the reaper, or any of the improved implements they find so necessary. The list might be carried on ad infinitum.

While The Record is not in sympathy with drastic reductions in salaries paid to the teachers in our State University and Normal Colleges, yet the small amount required by the agricultural experiment stations might well be lopped off of the appropriation for these salaries—if it can be found elsewhere—rather than to stop our experimental investigations in agriculture. Better still,
 the amount might be taken out of the more than $1,000,000 appropriated to buy land for the University at Austin.

One consolation for the stay-at-home is that they don't have to build fires of mornings or go to the trouble of pulling on a sweater as is said to be the case
 in Kool Kolorado.

Although he's been running since 1896 William Jennings Bryan was arrested yesterday in Antioch, Illinois, for speeding.

CITIZENS MAKE THE TOWN.

It is almost trite to say that citizens make the town. Yet so true is the statement—so obvious the fact—that it is frequently forgotten. Towns grow as a result of the efforts of individual citizens.

Vernon has been fortunate in its citizenship. Years ago good women planted trees along the streets, starting a movement that has made the town an outstanding community in all Northwest Texas. Two parks such as would be a credit to any community, a public library, and the Hill Crest Country Club are all invaluable assets. And while the latter is a private enterprise, it has a community value which will make it more of a pride to the entire citizenship a score of years hence than now.

The gift announced Tuesday of two acres of land by Otis T. Bacon of Wichita Falls is an event of large importance because it evidences a civic interest without which no community can hope to make the best. As such
 Mr. Bacon and his partner, Mr. Beur-ley, are due the thanks of all Vernon.
 This is the more true because these men were not citizens of the town.

 Merely having a financial interest here, they recognize some obligation to the community.

Doubtless all of these evidences of civic interest are but a beginning of the things which such spirit will impel others who are amply able to do for their home town throughout the years.

State Press observes that whenever a chicken marries a pig, as usual thing they lead a cat and dog life.

At least the rats will be jubilant over action of the Legislature in refusing any money for eliminating that pest.

"Be sensible and wear as few clothes as possible" is the advice of a Chicago newspaper to women for combating the heat wave. Why advise that?

TOO LITTLE FOR SCHOOLS.

Vernon is proud of her schools.
 Recognition is given work done here by leading colleges and universities all over the South.

The suggestion is made, however,
 that our courses of study are more limited than is desirable—little work being offered in foreign languages, and none
 in manual training or home economics.
 There is need, too, of an adequate high school building—one commensurate with the scholastic population and municipal wealth.

Plans have been made for adding courses of study in some of the subjects which have been omitted. Other courses can not be added until more funds are provided, and it is at this point that Vernon schools are perhaps most remarkable.

Operating on a minimum tax of 50c,
 it is remarkable that our schools have done so well. That such is the case is a tribute to the men responsible for our schools.

It must be, however, that the citizens will not insist very long that the assessment for Vernon schools be kept at 50c.

Current Comments

It Will Simplify The Problem.

"Railway solvency and efficiency are essential to our heartiest industrial, commercial and agricultural life.
 Everything hinges on transportation."

This is the chief justification, and we may say it is adequate justification, of the President's proposal to Congress to extend authority to the War Finance Corporation to purchase railroad securities, probably up to $500,000,000, now in the hands of the Railroad Administration, so that the proceeds may be used for settlement with the railroads.

Whether this will open the way to "early adjustment and relief" of the railroad problem, as the President urges, remains to be seen, but it does offer the opportunity to improve the situation in the immediate future.

The President also urged that the powers of the corporation be extended in the matter of agricultural financing.

Bills covering both of these subjects will be taken up by Congress, the questions being put in separate measures, and apparently there is a disposition to act promptly on them.

It is to be hoped that the action will be prompt. We have no illusions as to the efficacy of such methods in restoring normal conditions in the coun-
 come for a drive all along the line to remove whatever obstacles stand in the way of improvement. The problem of railroad financing, which the Government itself had a part in creating, can at least be simplified in the manner indicated by the President. Let it be done, and done without delay.—Star-Telegram.

STATE SURPLUS IS REDUCED.

General Revenue Fund Is Nearly Five Million Dollars Below Total
 of a Year Ago.

Texas will have a surplus in the State Treasury to the credit of the general revenue $549,000 on September 1, according to statement from the Comptroller's office in Austin. A year ago the amount was $5,336,000.

This was communicated to the Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committee for guidance in drawing bills. It will also be accepted by the State Automatic Tax Board as one of the units of calculation in making the state tax rates this year.

It is this decrease of nearly $5,000,
 000 which has been worrying Governor
 Neff and causing his effort to find some new source of revenue to avoid a deficit.

EXAMINATION FOR POSTMASTER HERE

VERNON IS INCLUDED IN TOWNS WHERE TESTS WILL BE HELD AUGUST 12.

An examination for Postmaster is announced to be held in Vernon August 12. It is stated that the Vernon office became vacant August 3, 1920. Postmaster J. V. Townsend was reappointed by President Wilson, but the Senate did not ratify the appointment. Candidates will not be required to report for examination at any place, but will be rated on education and training, 20 points; business experience and fitness, 80 points. In addition to the full detailed information called for, the candidates must furnish in connection with each responsible position held by them a statement of (a) the number of persons under their supervision; (b) the character of business done; (c) the volume of business done annually; (d) the commercial rating of each.

Candidates must show that for at least three years they have held responsible positions in which the principal duties involved the management of business affairs or such positions in different branches of the Post Office Service; candidates must also show that they have demonstrated their ability to meet and deal with the public satisfactorily.

"To be eligible for examination a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, must be in good physical condition, must actually reside within the delivery of the office for which the application is made, and must have been such resident for at least two years next preceding the occurrence of the present vacancy."

The minimum age limit is 25, and the maximum 65 years. A photograph taken within two years must be submitted.

Doans News

Doans, July 29.—(By special correspondence.)—Miss Johnny Lee Baker of Fort Worth is visiting Miss Thelma Eaton this week.

Mrs. Mabel Igou and children; Inez, John Corwin and Maurine, left for their home, in Electra today, after a two weeks' visit with her father, C. F. Doan.

Hardin Ross and family and Horace Turner and family of Odell spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ross, here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Thompson of the Sherwood community are visiting. Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Eaton.

Mrs. Roy Watts and little son, Roy, Jr., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Strickland at Vernon.

Miss Alline Rowland of Vernon visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rowland.

Miss Nellie Howard of Sherman is a guest of her aunt Mrs. E. L. Blackwood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blackwood and children moved to Vernon last week.

The election passed off quietly, Saturday. A light vote being polled. All amendments were defeated except two, D. W. May and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ross held the election.

Fifteen votes were cast; only two women voted.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Moore of the Sherwood community attended Rebekah Lodge, Monday night.

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs are planning to attend the Lower Panchandle Association at Childress which meets the third week in August. Ten delegates and ten alternates have been elected from each lodge.

R. Miller returned from a business trip to Wellington, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hamilton were in Vernon on business, Tuesday afternoon.

The big dam on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hamilton is nearing completion. The dirt work is done and the rip-rap work is progressing nicely. When completed this will be one of the finest lakes in this section of the county. The share holders and neighbors are ten business men of Vernon. The plans are drawn for a club house to be erected at the highest spot near the dam. The house will be wired for deco lights and the "juice" will be furnished by the plant erected by Mr. Hamilton, that supplies his home.

Commissioner Sidney Arner was here this week directing the building of a new bridge on the lower road to this place. They also at the same time constructed a fill where the water at that point makes the road impassable in wet weather.

Mr. Archer is to be commended for his good roads work in this community.

Money, Money, Money.

We have an endless chain of money to lend on farms, in Wilbarger, Foard, Hardeman, and other Western Texas counties. Long time, and at rates, as low as can be had anywhere.

101-11c T. P. LISMAN, & SON.

ON THE WING.

(By D. W. Leigh.)

Our work for last week began at Harrold, a thrifty town 15 miles east of Vernon, and located on the Denver railway. It is surrounded by a rich farming country but situated as it is between two good towns (Vernon and Electra), it can not hope to attain to the size of a city for many years to come. Threshing was in progress and wheat was moving rapidly to market.

Elliott (Bug-Scuffley)
A real live village five miles north of Harrold. The lands between the two towns are rolling and sufficient for proper drainage, but do not wash. The soil is classified as "light land" and adapted to grain including wheat, oats, maize, corn and feterita, and the crops are well advanced and maturing rapidly. The village is in the midst of a farming country unsurpassed by any community in the great Panhandle. Each farm is well improved, in a high state of cultivation and yields immensely. A few miles east one approaches a valley where the soil is chocolate in color and rich as Jersey cream. Anything grows to perfection insuring a maximum yield except wheat and oats. In every community there is a modern school building and Elliott has recently voted the limit of taxation to provide funds to improve hers and to increase the number of grades to be taught. To beautify the homes is not a mania of the people, but an inborn principle. Every farm house is provided with numerous shade trees, and the yards adorned with shrubbery and flowers. The housewives are neat and prepossessing.

Upon inquiry we found The Record in about 90 per cent of the homes, thus emphasizing their loyalty to home enterprise and the interest manifested in their county and its affairs.

Among the leading agriculturalists of the eastern section we mention Sam Kelly and J. Tom Haynes. The former is exclusively a grain man who, because the yield was a little short, only marketed 8,000 bushels this summer so his charming daughter, Miss Grace, informed us when handing a check to renew her father's subscription to The Record. Mr. Haynes raises cotton, corn, maize, alfalfa and hogs—Duroc Jerseys.

Rayland-Thalia.
After "doing" the east, we returned to Vernon very late Wednesday evening, proceeding to Rayland and Thalia early Thursday morning arriving within sight of the latter that evening and stopped over night. The little town in Foard county is in a good farming country with two mail routes but if one should drive or motor a couple of miles east of the village as the writer did last Friday, he or she would come in contact with the "chain series" and the deepest of sand beds. With wells flowing gyp water and no cisterns from which to draw a bucket of the aqueous fluid to quench thirst, the reader can imagine our predicament in failing to find an oasis until late in the afternoon. Crops, that is corn, cotton and maize, look promising in these sand beds, but gardens, owing to dry weather, are a failure.

Returning to Rayland Friday evening, we found that busy mart of one general merchandise store of Swin and Stanley, wreathed in smiles and radiant with hope. The wheat was fairly good, cotton, corn and other crops are promising bumper yields and the people are tickled almost to death because Commissioner McCaleb has just graded the road leading from their town to Vernon. The busy little burg sits just across the line in Foard county, but Vernon is the market center for this splendid community with its many productive farms and tremendous trade. With a good road over which to haul their products, this city can easily control that immense trade.

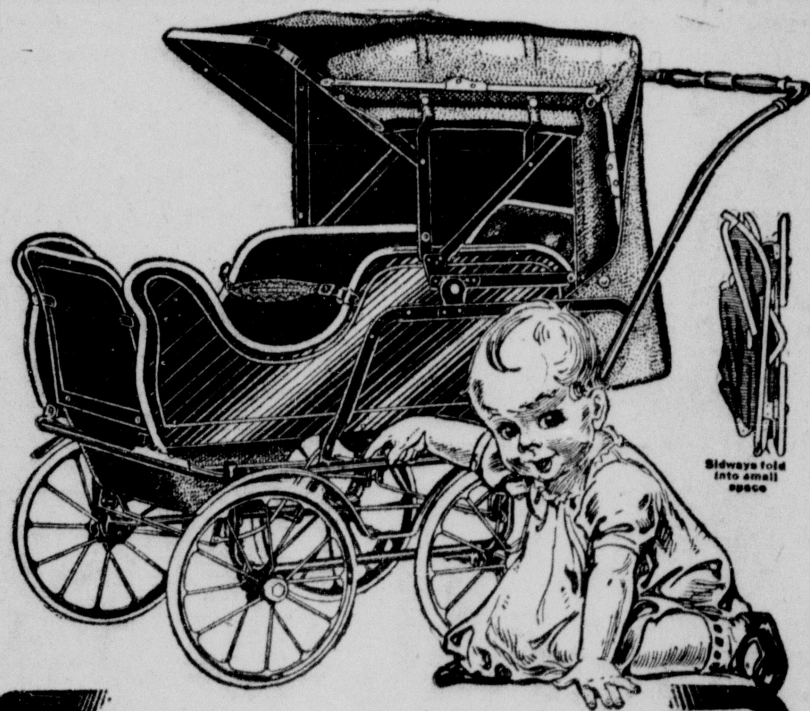

With three weeks of strenuous work while old Sol did his best to discourage us, we formed many acquaintances which we hope will develop into lasting friendships. For the present we are through, but trust for only a few months. To those who encouraged the work by their subscriptions and renewals, words fail to express our gratitude; to those however, who by sarcastic remarks sought to offend, we hold no malice but over them we spread the mantle of charity because the unsophisticated deserve sympathy.

Roll of Honor.
Otis Luttrell, Carl Morris, Mrs. G. W. Burgess, Sam Kelly, H. P. Lucas, A. P. Mason, G. J. Schuman, W. J. Swinney, H. W. Jackson, J. L. Waggoner, D. T. Lowe, C. D. Walls, E. R. White, J. Tom Haynes, H. H. Haynes, J. W. Pilgreen, B. P. Abston, G. A. Schultz, H. D. Lawson (the alfalfa man), R. F. Derington, J. H. Jordan, J. D. Standlee.

During the week the "Flying Dutchman" and writer were entertained in the following homes: Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tom Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Abston, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lewis. Arriving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Standlee just before noon, we asked for dinner which was granted by Mrs. Standlee. Less than five minutes after our arrival, one of her large Rhode Island Red friars met a sudden death whose obsequies we attended sometime between twelve and one o'clock. With best wishes.

You Adjust Sidway Springs as I Gain Weight

The spring which supports the two-months old infant is too light for the baby of eighteen months. The heavier child is jolted and jarred by the easy swing that is just right for the smaller baby. The springs of

Sidway

Collapsible Baby Carriages

can be instantly adjusted to the weight of any baby. You can do it with two fingers. This feature of the Sidway is exclusive. Here are some other fine points of the Sidway—Mother handles it with ease at curbs. Large enough, wide enough for crib, but folds into very small space. Fabrikoid tops (made by Dupont Fabrikoid Company of Wilmington, Del.) keep out rain, sun, snow, cold, make baby snug and warm. Best workmanship, materials, finish. Built like an automobile.

Buy a Sidway and you'll buy quality, strength and comfort for baby. The Sidway means spine protection and freedom from jabs, jolts and sudden bumps. Come in and see our large selection. Prices for all purposes.

VACATION TRAIL THROUGH VERNON WORN SMOOTH BY PLEASURE BOUND TEXANS

From whence do they come and where do they go—those cars which summer after summer stream daily through Vernon with their cargoes of equipment, luggage, and sun-burned tourists? Thus far the present season the migration has been principally from the east and south with vacationists heading up the Colorado to Gulf highway in impatient haste to reach the wonders of mountains and forests. Dallas, Fort Worth, and every town of appreciable size in Texas is represented in the cavalcade which speeds along the well-kept highway.

They come from all parts of Texas in every make of car—these khaki-clad enthusiasts who are pleasure bound. Some set their resource faces for the far Pacific coast, but the great majority are content to revel in the wondrous scenery and climate of the Colorado Rockies.

Is Filled With Interest.

The trip may be made in easy stages and is replete with interest and variety. Once the rolling prairies of the Lone Star State are left behind, the tourist ascends gradually into the foothills of New Mexico and southern Colorado. There are immense mounds of curious form and design in this section, and one is reminded of the legend and folk lore which credit the Indians with having made these masses of earth their burial grounds.

Once in Colorado, the tourist finds hard packed rock roads on every hand. The stoney soil affords heavy material for such highways, and the state has been quick to take this natural advantage as an added attraction and benefit for its tourists. Even roads in the mountains are admirably constructed and maintained so that even the hardest rains do little but glance off into the rushing streams of melting snow.

Denver Is Center.

Denver in the summer is the mecca of thousands upon thousands of tourists who find their way to the mile high city from all corners of the globe. One sees automobile license plates from Maine and Connecticut, from Georgia and Alabama, from Washington and from California, as well as every state in the middle west. There is a superabundance of Texas cars in every hand, and the "Hi, there, Tex!" of the Lone Star tourist is greeted by an answering yell and a nod of head from his fellow statesman. Missouri cars vie in numbers with those from Texas, and one finds the Show Me visitors at almost every point where anything is to be shown.

From Denver one may set off in any direction toward the mountains and discover unbounded enjoyment in the beauties of rock ribbed peaks and swirling mountain streams. The mountains exert a peculiar fascination that grip with every growing intensity the longer one remains within their magic environs. There is a rush for the mountains every week end on the part of Denver residents, and it is said that a check kept on cars during a recent Sunday shows that 20,000 passed up Bear Creek canyon alone on the one day. A crowd burst down this particular gorge two weeks ago, however, has temporarily impaired travel on this beautiful drive.

Lookout Mountain is another favorite haven of week-enders, picnickers and tourists. A concrete highway stretches fourteen miles toward Golden, and at its termination hard packed gravel takes up the task of providing a pleasant speedway for the hundreds of automobiles that daily whirr over its surface.

Road Is Masterpiece.

The road up the mountain is a masterpiece of engineering skill and example of human perseverance. Wind-ing up and over ever the seemingly impassable cliffs, it offers a cazzing variety of hairpin turns and twists that are no less compelling to the tourist than the mountains themselves. From the summit one has a wondrous view of the mountains and prairies for mile after mile, and at night the city of Denver appears as though some unseen hand had gathered full a fist of stars and flung them on the wind swept plains.

On the top of the winding Lookout drive is the grave of William Cody, or Buffalo Bill, as he was more familiarly known. The last wish of the famous plainsman was to be buried on the highest point of Lookout mountain, and his final resting place lies with its iron fence enclosure as though it would touch the very heavens. Hundreds of personal visiting cards are scattered on the grave of the old Indian fighter, and there are wreaths from various parts of the country.

An inn on the summit contains many personal effects of Buffalo Bill as well as views of frontier days. There are tokens of esteem from King Edward VII of England and Manuel of Portugal, together with many from American notables. From the porch of the inn one looks at the magnificent view through a huge telescope—especially placed for visitors.

Scenery Is Wonderful.

Scenery in the Colorado Rockies beggars all description. Distances are so vast, the air so clear, and the sky so blue that the newcomer is fairly staggered by the visions he beholds. Huge peaks fully fifty miles away appear within easy walking distance, and the novice is frequently tempted to clamber up slopes in what he judges would require a few hours but which in reality demand days to overcome.

Scenery is the stupendous feature of Colorado vacationing. Of course there is trout fishing, horseback and automobile riding, and the dry, cool, bracing mountain air, but after all it is the fact that no matter from which window of his cabin one looks, there is the boundless expanse of canyon, valley, and snow capped mountains that almost commands a sharp breath each time it is beheld. Postal card vendors have endeavored to the best of their ability to convey some idea of the matchless beauty of color and gorge, and thousands upon thousands of cards are sent out of the state each year, but they are in most instances feeble reproductions of some of Nature's finest masterpieces.

Texas Car Everywhere.

One sees Texas cars everywhere in Colorado. From Packard to Ford they grind their way up steep mountain slopes. Some are travel stained and heavily laden, others appear as bright and fresh as though just taken from the shop.

Not far distant from Denver and within an easy day's riding distance is Idaho Springs, a popular summering resort. Not far from here is found Georgetown, and above this village the renowned Georgetown loop that circles around and around, often carrying above the clouds the traveler on the antiquated little train that puffs its strenuous way through gorge and over crag. And far above the loop, almost 10,000 feet in the air, is Silver Plume, appearing for all the world as though it had been plucked bodily from some Alpine scene, and placed in the heart of the American Rockies. Rumor has it that there is one section of town upon which the sun has never shown, and residents in the quaint little burg enjoy moderate weather only two months of the year.

The mecca of tourists to Colorado is, to all outward appearances, Estes Park. Located about ninety miles from Denver, the "nation's playground," as it is called, offers an abundant variety of entertainment. To reach the little town of Estes Park which is on the border of the great government preserve, one journeys along a highway leading through Big Thompson Canyon, noted throughout Colorado scenic annals for its rare formations and majestic beauty. Walls of rock hundreds of feet high rise sheer from a mountain stream that tumbles on its way with a roar and swish that echo from side to side.

Rocks of Wondrous Views.

Rocks in the canyon are of peculiar hues, and artists ne'er dumber on canvas the colors so wondrously blended here by nature. Here and there is a fisherman whipping his fly back and forth in the stream, and thundering continuously through the gorge come the big, red sightseeing buses from Denver.

Once in the Park one chooses his place of residence from a considerable number of inns and hotels. The Stanley, Lewiston, Elkhorn, Crags, Stead's—these and many more afford excellent accommodations for the thousands of tourists who annually come into the Park. There are huge fireplaces in the lobbies of all the hostleries, and even though the month is July the pine log blaze each night is unusually welcome. Many of the inns are of rustic design and contain countless curios of provincial and historic interest. One of these, the Fairgrave Inn, is modeled closely after the hostelry in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and the proprietors, a man and his wife, pose frequently for Eastman Kodak and Colgate advertisements. Long's Peak Inn, near the foot of the highest point in the Colorado Rockies, is conducted by Enos Mills, the well-known artist, writer, and naturalist.

The feature trip in Estes Park is undoubtedly the Fall River drive. One winds up to the dizzy heights on a road for the most part too narrow to permit the passing of cars and on many turns the automobilist is obliged to back in order to bring his machine around. At the terminus of the drive is the Great Divide, and banks of century old snow are on each side of the road. The view is magnificent, stretching from down the canyon to where a tiny lake gleams in the valley. One stoops and rolls a snow ball for a slip pop at his fellow traveler, and in a moment the light is on. Snow in July and at a temperature of about October! Below in the canyon one can see heavy banks of clouds and ere long these rise and the

Miss Phoebe Fairgrave.

Phoebe Fairgrave, just eighteen, who quit being a stenographer because she "couldn't stand being cooped up in an office," today holds the world's record for women parachute jumpers, with a leap of 15,200 feet. Miss Fairgrave made the leap before a crowd of fifteen thousand people. On landing she said, "It took every ounce of my strength I could muster to step out on the wings of the plane. For the first time in my life I was really scared. I jumped, and for the first two hundred feet I fell like a bullet. Then my parachute opened up, and I began to swing back and forth. At about two thousand feet I struck a dead air pocket and dropped straight down for two hundred feet more. After that everything went along smoothly until I landed, shaken but unhurt, in a wheat field."

Scenic Possibilities Endless.

Scenic possibilities in Estes Park are apparently endless. Fern Lake and Odessa, tucked high in the snow capped mountains, can be appreciated in no other way than taronga seeing. From the dark, glass like waters the heavily wooded slopes stretch up into the sky, and above timber line are the bare, hard outline of the rugged rocks. All is solitude and the very quiet of the surroundings lends an added awe and charm to the scene.

In another month the homeward exodus will commence. From peak and valley will come to Texas tourists by the hundreds, chugging back over the vacation trail. Soon it will be but a memory, those weeks in Colorado mountains. Next winter will come fireside discussions of past pleasures, there will be tentative plans for the coming summer, and then—the tent, the khaki, and all the equipment will be hauled from the attic and the whole trip taken over again.

FULCHER ELECTED NEW PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL HERE

County Superintendent Fills Vacancy Left by Resignation of A. F. Winston—No Provision Made As Yet For New Wilbarger Head and Attorney General Will Be Consulted.

J. N. Fulcher will be principal of Vernon high school for the coming year according to a decision made at a meeting of the school board yesterday morning at which the resignation of A. F. Winston was read and accepted. Mr. Winston found that business matters would not permit taking up the duties of principal and instructor as he had earlier thought possible. Mr. Fulcher is at present county superintendent of schools, and his selection as the high school head was unanimous.

According to a statement issued by the newly appointed principal this morning, he will accept the offer of the board. Mr. Fulcher indicated that his resignation to the commissioners' court would go in today. He has been county superintendent for three years, is a graduate of Denton State Normal and head of the Tolbert school for four years. He is well known throughout Wilbarger and possesses great popularity with local school patrons. Mr. Fulcher also studied at the University of Texas.

No New Head Selected.

No course of action has been decided upon as yet in respect to filling the vacancy left by Mr. Fulcher. According to Judge E. L. McClurg no provision is made for selecting a man in an emergency of this kind, and it will be necessary to consult the opinion of the State attorney general.

Further business at the school board meeting yesterday morning involved acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Clara K. McLaughlin and the election of Miss Catherine Chapman to take her place. Miss Lucille Shank of Winona was selected as teacher of domestic science for next year. She is a graduate of the College of Industrial Arts and Miss Chapman a graduate of Baylor University. The board also authorized E. L. Doloney to make tentative plans in regard to the installation of manual training in the high school next year.

WILL GIVE PRIZES FOR DEAD FLIES

LIONS' CLUB ORGANIZES CONTEST FOR BOYS UNDER 15 YEARS OLD.

Prizes will be given to any Vernon boy under 15 years old who submits the greatest quantity of dead flies between this time and September 30, according to plans made this noon at the weekly luncheon of the Lions' Club, held at the Elk Rooms. In addition, the boys will be paid twenty-five cents a quart for the flies by Rev. Gus Ramage, to whom they must be submitted.

The organization will welcome an offer of prizes from any merchant in the city. Thus far two have signified their willingness to contribute gifts, a Kodak from L. P. Kramer, and a pair of high grade shoes from H. C. Russell & Sons. The plan of the Lions' Club is along the aim of the organization to promote the civic welfare of the community.

It was decided at the luncheon this noon that similar meetings will be held each Friday noon. The fourth Friday of each month will be set aside for ladies' day. Eric G. Schroeder was accepted into membership at the luncheon today.

Till the Cows Come Home

"I am indeed glad to write you this letter. I was a terrible sufferer from gases in the stomach and colic attacks. The specialist our family doctor sent me to in Philadelphia, gave me no relief, although I took his medicine till the cows came home. He finally said I would have to be operated on. Luckily I heard of May's Wonderful Remedy then, and although it is now three years since I took a symptom of my old trouble since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO COUNTY PAVING

DIVISION ENGINEER SAYS PAVEMENT IS BEST IN DISTRICT.

A high tribute to the concrete pavement recently completed for 2.6 miles east of town is carried in a communication to the State Highway Engineer from Henry J. Cox, acting division engineer who inspected the Wilbarger county highway recently in company with H. Messigman, Federal engineer, J. B. Nabers, county engineer, and members of the commissioners' court. A copy of the letter sent the State official has been received here by Mr. Nabers and is substantially as follows:

"The entire project has been very satisfactorily completed. The concrete pavement has the appearance of being the best constructed of any in this district. So far no transverse or longitudinal cracks have developed, there are remarkably few pits occasioned by clay balls, and the surface is entirely free from waves or other irregularities of section.

Structures Are Approved. "A triangular piece of concrete about eight inches long at section 108 was broken from the corner of a section by the roller. It was recommended that this be repaired by replacing with concrete about twice the thickness of the pavement and extending about one foot beyond the edge. It is understood that all structures were approved and accepted some time ago."

Society Entertain Bridge Club.

Misses Geraldine and Mozelle Parker entertained at their home on West Wilbarger street yesterday for the Thursday Bridge Club. Outside guests invited were Misses Vera Harrington, Della Dugan, Frances Lomax, and Katherine Hagler.

Fordson TRACTOR

"The Tractor will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life. I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth."

This tractor has done much—very much—in bringing true Mr. Ford's prophecy; for in it is a machine which has harnessed one of the most dependable, efficient, adaptable, economical sources of power in the world—a machine that saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time—a machine which many farmers claim plows, harrows or drills as much ground in the same time as four, six or even eight horses. And more—a machine that takes care of every power job on the farm.

Call and let's talk it over, or telephone or drop us a card and we will bring the facts to you.

SEVEN LITTLE TOTS GAIN HALF A POUND

STILL GROWING—NEW ONES
ENROLLED.

Nineteen old members, seven new ones and three visitors were present at the fourth regular weekly meeting of the nutrition class conducted for the benefit of Vernon children Thursday morning. Of the nineteen previously enrolled in the class, which has for its chief purpose that of helping the little folks to attain their normal weight, seven had gained half a pound since the last meeting and were given gold stars on their cards. Those seven also got blue stars for having taken the required amount of sleep, and nine others got stars of this color. One child received a red star for having eaten cooked cereal every morning and for having drunk four glasses of milk every day. A total of twenty-four stars were pasted on the little folks' cards yesterday morning.

Miss Rose Ellmann, the public health nurse, who has charge of the class, talked to the children on the subject of fresh air. The usual half hour was spent in playing games after the health lesson had been completed and then the nourishing refreshments, consisting this time of cup custard and milk, were served.

Two Sections Necessary.

Miss Charlie Mae Northcraft and Miss Ruth Stovall assisted Miss Ellmann in the absence of Miss Edith Lacy and Miss Eula Goodfellow who have partial charge of the nutrition class.

New members have been enrolled at every meeting of the class up to date, according to Miss Ellmann, and because of this fact more or less confusion is caused and time wasted in making explanations to them concerning the work. For that reason she has requested that all others who wish to enroll come to her office on Saturday afternoon and find out what things are required of them at that time.

The class has grown so much during the last two weeks that it has become necessary to divide it according to ages. More than thirty have been enrolled. In so far as possible Miss Ellmann has kept the children from 5 to 8 years of age in the Thursday class and the older ones she has asked to come on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, except where several children from one family are concerned; in the latter case all were put in the same class so that they might still come together.

PRAIRIE DOGS FLOURISH.

Pests Still At Large In County—State Law Requires Their Extirpation.

Although not of malignant nature, prairie dogs still flourish in Wilbarger county as is evidenced by signs in the country and inspection of various fields. In some sections the pests congregate in towns and their burrows cover several acres. Land thus occupied is naturally unfit for cultivation. Furthermore the rat like creatures consume considerable quantities of grain that in time entail enormous loss.

A state law requires all land owners to kill prairie dogs on their land. The method of enforcing the regulation is an automatic one. Any commissioner may report the presence of dogs to the sheriff, and that official in turn notifies the property owner to exterminate the animals.

Thirty days is given the land owner to comply with the order, and at the expiration of that time, if it has not been obeyed, the sheriff kills the animals and levies charges against the landlord. This law is being enforced to some extent locally, according to the county judge.

Dies of Diphtheria.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brezeal died of diphtheria last night at their home in the northeast part of town. The child had been sick only a few days. Shortly before the death of the little son, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brezeal died. Funeral services were held by Rev. W. T. Rouse Wednesday morning and they were interred in East View Cemetery.

Young Gotch Issues Challenge.

Young Gotch, who meets Al Ackerman in a wrestling match here Monday night, has issued a challenge to George Stevenson of Amarillo in which he agrees to win two falls in ninety minutes or forfeit all gate receipts. The winner will take all. In the event the debt is accepted Gotch expects to stage the match in Amarillo.

Is Alleged Forger.

George Breeding of Hardeman county was arrested Wednesday by the sheriff's force on the charge of having forged two checks at his many local dry goods stores. The checks were made on the Herring and Maggoner National Banks and were made out to McKibbin's and Freeman Bros. stores. Breeding is in jail here.

DEMAND FOR TANLAC BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Amazing Success Achieved by Celebrated Medicine Not Only Phenomenal, But Unprecedented—Over 20,000,000 Bottles Sold in Six Years—Foreign Countries Clamor for It.

Never before, perhaps, in the history of the drug trade has the demand for a proprietary medicine ever approached the wonderful record that is now being made by Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results throughout this country and Canada. As a matter of fact, the marvelous success achieved by this medicine is not only phenomenal, but unprecedented.

The first bottle of Tanlac to reach the public was sold just a little over six years ago. Its success was immediate and people everywhere were quick to recognize it as a medicine of extraordinary merit. Since that time there have been sold throughout this country and Canada something over Twenty Million (20,000,000) bottles, establishing a record which has probably never been equaled in the history of the drug trade in America.

Fame Is International.

The instant and phenomenal success which Tanlac won when it was first introduced has been extended to practically every large city, small town, village and hamlet in North America. Its fame has become international in its scope and England, Japan, Mexico, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Porto Rico and many European countries are clamoring for it.

From coast to coast and from the Great Lakes, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it with the most gratifying and astonishing results and have pronounced it the greatest medicine of all time.

Tens of thousands of men and women of all ages in all walks of life, afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders some of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse, have testified that they have been fully restored to their normal weight, health and strength by its use.

Restored to Health.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour, gassy stomachs, coated tongues, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and of terribly dejected, depressed feelings state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by the use of Tanlac.

Foster's Weather Report.

Washington, D. C., July 29, 1921.—A high temperature wave will cover the northern plains, northern Rockies and northern Pacific slope near August 2 and a moderate storm will be pushing from behind it. These conditions will cross meridian 90, moving southeastward, about one day later and will reach Atlantic coast section August 4 or 5. Not much rain from this disturbance; storms will be weak and of little importance; good corn weather where the soil is wet and hard where it has been dry; lazy, sluggish weather. The rain that comes from that storm will be located much the same as for the past three or four weeks.

This storm will end the monthly locations and better rains are expected for August in the middle southwest, including western Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Texas. July and August rains are always important to that large section. But severe storms are not expected in August and they are necessary to good rains.

A considerable number of subscribers to this paper have written private letters asking me to answer weather questions relative to their immediate vicinities and some editors have requested that I answer such questions. I always reply to such letters when a stamp accompanies them, but I am unable to answer all questions; sometimes I do not know; sometimes it would require too much work. I am very busy but I desire to be accommodating.

I gave remarkably correct forecasts, a year in advance, of the present great drought in Great Britain and the northwestern part of Central Europe. Six months ago I foretold another great drought that will be of great importance to man in all civilized countries. Australia, the East Indies, including the Philippines, southern China and India will be afflicted with a general drought, beginning with October, 1922 and continuing four or five months. Australia will suffer most. Greatest damages to crops will be in southeastern and northwestern Australia. The time of the great drought covers all their crop season, October to February, and will include their wheat crop, which is a very important matter to America and Canada. In about two-thirds of the winter grain sections of this continent winter grain crops will be good next year. Failure of crops next year in Australia and a shortage in India, southern China, the Philippines and New Zealand, means a big demand for our 1922 winter grain.

I know the causes of these great droughts and have not missed them for years and I have complete faith in these forecasts and advices. I miss the local temperature forecast sometimes, but I do not miss the great droughts. The farmers of this continent can increase their income by millions by sowing more winter grain than usual. Of course this will not apply to all sections.

ROCKEFELLER TO GOLF AT 100, SAYS HIS PHYSICIAN.

John D. Rockefeller & Dr. H. F. Biggar, M.D.

The prediction that John D. Rockefeller, who recently celebrated his eighty-second birthday, will live to be one hundred years old was made in Cleveland the other day by Dr. H. F. Biggar, his physician and lifelong friend. The doctor, who is also eighty-two, looks forward to a golf match with the Oil King, when both have rounded the century mark. Dr. Biggar said: "Mr. Rockefeller is in better health now than many a man of fifty. Anyone who follows his sensible way of living can live to be a centenarian. Mr. Rockefeller once had indigestion, but he does not suffer from it now. He can eat anything, but he observes one of the prime laws of health and eats moderately. Often I have heard him remark, as he rose from the dinner table, 'I could have eaten more.' His good sense tells him that moderation in diet is a prerequisite of endurance." To Dr. Biggar is given the credit for prolonging the life of the world's richest man.

OKLAUNION GIRL IS FIRST IN STATE CLOTHING CONTEST

Ramal Butler Also Wins Third Prize at A. & M. on Canning While Vynetta Little of Harrold Is Given Fourth Prize on Clothing—School Outfits Were Submitted.

Wilbarger county stands high among the winners in the clothing and canning contests conducted at the State Agricultural and Mechanical College this week for girls. Oklaunion and Harrold are the two communities whose representatives won the honors.

First prize in clothing goes to Ramal Butler of Oklaunion. She also won third prize on her exhibition of canned articles. Vynetta Little of Harrold was given fourth place on sewing exhibit. The contest was open to girls from all over Texas.

These two young women won in the county contest held here July 16, with scores on clothing exhibits of 97.13 and 96 per cent respectively. They submitted the same outfits at College Station.

Miss Little has taken sewing in the Harrold high school, while Miss Butler has done quite a little of the sewing in her club work.

Make Entire Outfit.

Outfits submitted had to consist of a school dress, a princess slip or petticoat and corset cover, and a pair of teddies all made by the girl herself. She wore her dress while it was being judged and with it hat, shoes and stockings suitable for school. The three latter things were taken into consideration when the outfit as a whole was scored.

The school outfits submitted by Miss Butler and Miss Little were unusually attractive and well made for girls of 16 and 15, according to the opinion of the local judges. Mrs. O. A. Brunson, Mrs. A. C. Rogers, and Mrs. Shirley Cook. Miss Butler's dress was of blue chambray made after the style of a Hoffman middie suit. The suit of underwear submitted by her was of cambric, made rather plain except for the handwork on the hems. Miss Little's dress was of blue and white check gingham trimmed with solid blue and white rickrack braid. Her suit of underwear was also of cambric and was trimmed with crocheted lace.

VERNON DEFEATS CHILLICOTHE.

Local Legion Team Wins Tuesday's Game by Score of 8 to 5.

The Vernon post of the American Legion defeated Chillicothe in a close game of ball Tuesday at the fair park. Chillicothe played a fair game of ball but was outplayed by the Vernon Boys from the first inning. The score was eight to five in favor of Vernon.

MILITIA WILL BE SWORN IN FIRST OF NEXT WEEK

The local company of Texas National Guard will be mustered in the first of next week, according to an announcement of officers made this morning. A special officer will be here for the purpose. Captain Clyde Watts urges those who have not yet received notification to come to the local office immediately for a physical examination and to complete enlistment papers.

Between 55 and 60 members have joined the local militia company. Sixty-five men is the goal set. The soldiers will go to the militia camp at Austin August 14 and remain ten days.

Picnic for Memphis Guests.

Miss Ethel Haney was hostess at a picnic Thursday evening in Aitkinham Park in honor of Miss Elsie Bass of Memphis, Texas. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fulcher, Mrs. G. E. Blackman, Miss Minnie King, Miss Bass and Miss Haney; Messrs. Walter Hoffman, Marvin McNutt, N. B. Hodge, S. E. Porterfield, and Luther Strellt.

COUNTY VALUATION FOR PAST YEAR BREAKS RECORD

Worth of Wilbarger Is Placed By Assessor At $17,180,630—Exceeds Figures of Previous Annun by $889,989—Reports Still Coming In—Will Net Revenue Around $95,000.

The total valuation of Wilbarger county for the past year, according to figures compiled by the county assessor, is $17,180,630. This represents an increase of $889,989 over the valuation of last year which was placed at $16,290,641.

This amount, it is expected, will be augmented somewhat by reports which are still coming in, thus raising the total still more. The valuation is the largest ever possessed by Wilbarger county. Wichita county, in the estimation of the county assessor, will be the only neighbor to equal or surpass the local valuation. Fort and Harde-man counties, it is said, are considerably below the amount.

Nets Large Revenue.

The State tax rate has as yet not been established, but the county rate will be fifty-five cents on the hundred dollars valuation. This will provide approximately $94,493.46 for Wilbarger.

WICHITA VISITORS HERE.

C. M. Mann Says Medicine Park Is One of Greatest Outing Spots in Southwest.

C. M. Mann and family are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Baird in Northwest Vernon. They came Wednesday.

Roads between Wichita Falls and Vernon are fine, according to Mr. Mann, who says that Wichita county has found it necessary to place two motorcycle cops on the paved road between that place and Iowa Park, and make the speed limit 25 miles between Iowa Park and Electra the pavement is being laid, and travelers detour via Kemp City.

Mr. Mann and S. E. Trevathan recently returned from an outing in Medicine Park, which the former characterizes as the greatest outing place he has found in the Southwest. The water is wonderfully clear, fishing and swimming are fine, and the scenery is magnificent. A man can climb Mount Scott, Mr. Mann says, and see the deer going from one nation to another in numbers any morning. They have a trail between Mount Scott and Mount Wichita.

ODELL ORCHARD OWNER SELLS $150 WORTH OF PEACHES

W. T. Becknell, who lives one and a half miles south of Odell, has sold up to date $150 worth of peaches from his four acre orchard. Counting what he has used himself and what he has given away he estimates that more than a hundred bushels have been gathered. Mr. Becknell says his fruit began ripening the first of June and that he will continue to have peaches until October first.

There are peaches or several varieties in this orchard; some are Libbertas, some are other species of free-stone and some are cling, the name of which the owner does not know. The fruit is as nearly perfect as any he has ever seen. Mr. Becknell reports, and the yield is as large. Many branches have been borne entirely to the ground with their burdens.

LOCAL PAVING WORK SOON TO BE COMPLETED

Work at paving Vernon streets will soon be completed. West Pease is already finished, and South Main will have the finishing touches put on it shortly.

Nothing further will be done toward paving the remainder of South Main Street, R. H. Standifer, local superintendent, stated yesterday. The one block, reaching from Marshall to Paradise streets, will aid immensely in communication between paved sections of the town, he said, but the remainder of the project has been abandoned. It was inadvertently stated in a previous issue of The Record that only half of the street between the Bailey Hotel and Carnegie library on North Cumberland Street would be paved, but all of it will be surfaced.

WASHINGTON STATUTE PRESENTED TO ENGLAND BY U. S.

The George Washington Statue in Trafalgar Square, London, which is the gift of the State of Virginia to the British Empire. FEATURE MATCH SCHEDULED MONDAY

ACKERMAN AND GOTCH WILL MEET IN LOCAL ARENA FOR SECOND TIME.

Al Ackerman and Young Gotch are scheduled to meet at the arena at E. Texas and S. Cumberland Sts. Monday night in what the Vernon Athletic Club considers one of the best wrestling matches ever staged in Texas. Both principals are working hard for the contest and the red tharred Irishman is returning to Vernon Sunday with the determination to pin the husky Greek to the mat.

Gotch is fresh from his recent victory over Calleo and is working daily in the local club quarters. Ackerman has won three matches since his defeat here July 4, and reports that he has fully recovered from the injury to his arm which many credit as having cost him the match. Those who witnessed the grapplers on the nation's holiday will recall the high excellence and knowledge of the game displayed by both wrestlers, and it is a safe assumption that the go Monday will be a feature in every respect.

Women Are Invited.

Women are especially invited to be present by the Athletic Club. Thus far attendance at the events here has been extremely slim, and it is reported that $15 was lost on the match between Gotch and Calleo. The Vernon Athletic Club is desirous of retrieving the losses sustained in the last two matches as well as netting a sum for the benefit of the organization.

Wrestling and boxing preliminaries will commence at 8:30 p. m. and will be staged by members of the club. Admission will be $1.10 at the ringside, and general admission will be $5.55 war tax included in both prices.

KEMP CITY BURNED OUT.

Fire Destroys Oil Field Town West of Wichita Falls With Loss of $15,000.

Kemp City is only a pile of blackened embers and memory. The chief municipality of the Kemp-Munger-Al-len district in Wichita county was practically wiped out by fire starting at midnight Monday. No casualties resulted.

The origin of the fire is unknown. All of the buildings were frame structures, three being two stories high. They were erected during the boom days of 1919 and 1920. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Special Meeting of Legion.

A special meeting of the American Legion will be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock in the district court room for the purpose of discussing the present difficulty between the Legislature and the Legion. Resolutions will be suggested and acted upon. All members are urged to be present.

Will Give Father and Son Luncheon.

A Father and Son luncheon will be given next Monday noon by the Manual Training Club of the First Christian Church in the church parlors. The meal will be served from 12 to 1 o'clock.

OPERATORS ARE NOT TAKEN WITH STILL

OFFICERS FIND 50 GALLON BOLLER AND TEN BARRELS OF MASH.

A highly effective outfit for the making of intoxicating liquors was captured yesterday by Sheriff W. A. Ish. According to Mr. Ish, the manufacturers had probably been operating for two months, but had kept themselves hid until last Friday when Mr. Ish smelled a mouse and trailed the scent south. He kept quiet about his suspicions until he had enough evidence to know the approximate location.

Early Friday morning, Mr. Ish with two deputies, F. A. N. O'Neal and J. W. Carrington, left Vernon in Mr. Ish's car "loaded for bear." They headed for the old Thaxton place about eight miles south of Rock crossing on Caver creek. According to Mr. Ish, he wasn't overburdened by the information he was able to gather from the residents of the suspected locality and had to follow his own intuition; and that peculiar faculty aided by a sensitive nose led to the capture.

Abandon Ford Car.

Sheriff Ish and his deputies had to run their car through brakes, creeks, and thorn thickets, and when the Ford could go no further, they depended upon their feet to carry them through. They reached Minnow creek and wading through mud and briars, they finally reached the suspected territory; but the task was only started.

Trees, thickets, and giant weeds were so thick the eyes could carry only a few yards, and there were miles to cover. They covered every inch of the ground as they advanced, up the creek and were within twenty yards of the still when their highly susceptible nasal organs detected the desired odor. Following the scent, they located the outfit on the banks of Minnow creek. The operators had disappeared and no arrests were made.

An Efficient Outfit.

According to the belief of the three men, the operators were well acquainted with their business. They had a fifty gallon steel keg for a boiler and had a large funnel soldered on one side of this barrel, and from the top of this funnel, the coil ran to the cooling barrel where water was kept cool by a pump from the creek. When the steam from the mash had condensed in the coil it ran out into a vat of charcoal where it was clarified.

They found ten barrels of mash made from meal, cornchops and canned peaches. Very little of the real stuff was located; but according to Mr. Ish, that which was found was of a superior quality and was as clear as water. Both the mash and the finished product was poured into the creek, and the empty barrels and still were brought to town this morning on Mr. O'Neal's truck.

Much excitement was caused when the outfit was parked in front of the court house, and many were deciding to go fishing when it was found that the mash and whiskey had been poured into the creek.

WILL BURY ARTHUR LLOYD'S BABY HERE

SECOND OPERATION FOR REMOVAL OF SAFETY PIN FROM STOMACH IS FATAL.

Funeral services for the seven-months-old child of Arthur Lloyd of Oklahoma City will be held at the residence of A. A. Lloyd in Vernon at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The body will be buried in East View cemetery. The baby swallowed an open safety pin the other day in San Angelo, and it was announced that a successful operation had been performed for removal of the pin. A second operation became necessary, which was too much for the little sufferer, who succumbed Thursday morning.

Following is a statement of the mishap taken from the San Angelo Reporter:

An open safety pin, nearly an inch and a half long, which had been swallowed on July 3 by the seven-months-old child of Mrs. Lloyd of Oklahoma City, who is here visiting her sister, Mrs. R. D. Freeman, was removed from the stomach of the child at St. John's Sanitarium Friday afternoon by means of an operation. The child is reported to be recovering rapidly and physicians are of the opinion that no ill effects will result from the operation.

The case is one of the most interesting which has ever come before the local medical profession. The X-Ray was used in locating the pin.

The child swallowed the pin July 3 and physicians treated the case continuously until the operation was found necessary. No symptoms developed to show that the pin had lodged in the stomach and it remained only for the X-Ray to disclose this fact. Physicians took X-Ray pictures every day during the two weeks and were able to watch closely the results of the treatment. A clear outline of the open pin in the stomach showed up in each X-Ray picture.

Every effort was made to dislodge the pin but it being open, it stuck into the tissues of the wall of the stomach and could not be dislodged.

FORMER VERNON PASTOR IS MISSIONARY TO KOREA

Women of the Presbyterian Church of Vernon are getting ready a number of gift packages for Rev. and Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy, who are making plans to sail as missionaries to Korea. These packages are to be opened each day of the voyage.

Mr. Murphy was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Vernon located on South Main street, where F. L. Massie's home has been built. He left here about the time the two local churches were consolidated some three years ago.

Plains Visitors Return. A. Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Heath of Wichita Falls came in last night from the South Plains, where they have been visiting Mrs. Dr. Moody. Mrs. Moody is a daughter of Mr. Allison and a sister of Mrs. Heath.

BARGAIN DAY TO FEATURE VERNON TRADE ACTIVITY

Second Monday of Each Month Is Set Aside For Offering Of Special Values—Co-operative Advertising Plan Will Be Followed—Merchants Lend Enthusiastic Support.

A bargain day on the second Monday of every month will feature trade activity in Vernon in the future, according to a campaign decided upon yesterday by a chamber of commerce officials and local merchants. The plan provides that the merchants will give special bargains on that day and but two specials will be allotted to each dealer. No two merchants are to offer the same special bargains on the same day.

It is proposed to give away registered live stock each sales day.

The bargains which various merchants plan to offer on bargain day are to be put in a large co-operative advertisement. This will contain the specials of the individual merchants. These advertisements are to be submitted to the chamber of commerce at least ten days before Vernon Bargain Day, so they can be passed on by a committee of representative merchants. This committee will see that the articles offered as bargains are actually special values, and will also see that no two merchants inadvertently conflict with each other on their specials.

The plan also contemplates an auction where farmers can bring anything they wish to sell and it will be disposed of without any charge for the auctioneer's commission on the first Bargain Day.

Firms Sign Up.

Those firms which have thus far signified their intention of supporting the movement and which have signed a contract to that effect are: Perkins-Timberlake, Baker Bros. Drug Store, Pictorial, H. C. Russell & Sons, Heath & Thompson, William Cameron & Co., Kramer Studio, T. J. Youngblood, Parker-Douglas Grocery Co., Swartwood & Co., C. W. Oliver, Freeman Bros., J. A. McFall, Hawkins-Williams Furniture Co., Brunson & Williams, Vernon Grocery Co., City News Stand, Candyland, E. M. Lentzger, Ferguson Drug Co., Bennett & Rogers, Service Auto Supply Co., Times Publishing Co., and More's Theater.

The committee visiting merchants with the petition is composed of W. C. Baker, J. H. Timberlake, and Curtis Renfro.

MANY AT BIRTHDAY JULIE.

H. P. Starr of White City Has Celebrated July 27 With Friends For Fifteen Years.

H. P. Starr of White City was host to members of his family and a number of friends with a birthday party at his home Wednesday, July 27. Mr. Starr has made this an annual affair for fifteen years, and members of his family look forward to July 27 with more enthusiasm than they do to Thanksgiving or Christmas.

Visitors began to congregate as early as 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, and long before time for the big dinner, the number had exceeded the capacity of the monster table. However, room was made for all, and the dinner proved a success. In the afternoon young members of the merry-makers drove to a nearby lake and enjoyed a swim.

Those present were: P. E. Starr and family of Wellington, W. P. Starr and family of Odell, S. B. Starr and family of Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kester of Odell, Dan Boone and family of White City, Grant Harris of Fort Worth, H. S. Starr and family of Vernon, W. B. Germany and family of White City, Walter Starr and family of Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Olen Turner of Vernon.

BANKERS SANGUINE IN REFERENCE TO TRADE CONDITIONS

Local Money Dealers Believe Wheat Harvest Provided Saving Grace—Less Tendency on Part of Patrons To Borrow—Approaching Cotton Gathering and Will Aid Immensely.

Optimism is manifested on the part of local bankers in regard to business and general industrial conditions in Vernon and Vernon trade territory. The past wheat harvest bolstered wonderfully the hopes of merchants and patrons as well for relief from the depression that has made itself felt over the entire country.

Although there has been no material increase in bank deposits nor stimulus in the movement of money, there has been more of a tendency to reduce loans and less inclination to ask for additional funds. The money gained through the sale of grain has provided the means to make needed purchases and farmers have been able to avoid borrowing to furnish necessities.

Is Temporary Stimulus.

The present increase in trade is but a temporary stimulus due to the wheat harvest, in the opinion of G. C. Morris of the Herring National Bank. Merchants have become more optimistic, he said, and report better business than for some time.

In about another month said Mr. Morris, the first of the cotton crop will be gathered and this is expected to prove a decided help. With its aid and the general upward trend matters should adjust themselves. A comparison with last year cannot be made due to the fact that at that time Vernon was still under the effects of the oil boom and prices were still going up.

Loans Reduced Little.

There is little alteration this month over last in respect to reduction of loans, according to Emory Rhoads of the Farmers State Bank. The wheat crop has not stimulated trade as much as it has simply served to avenge it and prove a saving factor in industrial conditions. A considerable amount of money was thus put into circulation.

Mr. Rhoads is under the impression that there will be a turn for the better before long. The cotton crop, although materially smaller, is promising.

Big Feed Crop.

There is a tendency to reduce loans, said L. G. Hawkins of the Waggoner National Bank, but not much change in individual deposits. Prospects point to a fruitful year in regard to Wilbarger county crops and this will undoubtedly prove a saving factor. The cost of moving the cotton crop will be much smaller this year, he said. Chopping and picking have been effectively reduced in price. Prospects point to a bumper feed crop in Wilbarger county and this item is always of immense assistance to the farmers.

Money Devoted to Expenses.

The wheat crop has stimulated Vernon trade, said J. T. Glover of the First Guaranty State Bank. However, much of the money gained has gone for expenses and has been spread out over a great deal of territory. Merchants report collections better, he said, but the money has in turn been sent to the wholesalers. However, the general situation is improved and with the cotton crop coming on the outlook is not in the least pessimistic.

IS RECRUITING HERE FOR TEXAS MILITARY COLLEGE

Col. Louis C. Perry, president and founder of The Texas Military College at Terrell, Texas, is in Vernon today recruiting students for the college. Col. Perry reports that the "T. M. C." at Terrell was the only military school of second class that met government standards for S. A. T. C. during the war.

Standard courses are offered from the seventh grade through Junior College, and the graduates are admitted without examination to college or university. Col. Perry plans to leave tomorrow for he has to cover all West Texas as soon as possible.

Today and Saturday—Alice Brady in "Out of the Chorus."

This photoplay takes the spectator behind the scenes and gives him a close-up of the life of a chorus girl. Miss Brady takes the part of a number of the chorus who marries a wealthy man. The ceremony displeases his parents who make life as miserable as possible for the young girl. She rises to the occasion, however, and shows them that her character is really more spotless than theirs.

Monday—"The Dwelling Place of Light," by Winston Churchill.

Janet Butler is secretary to Claude Dittmar, general manager of the Hampton Mills. Dittmar is carrying on a clandestine affair with Elsie, Janet's younger sister, and at the same time is making advances toward Janet. Elsie, faced with a terrible problem, finally leaves home and must learn the true nature of her employer. The men under him strike and she takes their side and helps out their families in the suffering caused by the lack of work for the men. In this work she meets Brooks Insall with whom she falls in love. Her mother shoots Dittmar and Janet is held for the crime. Insall clears her, however, and brings little Elsie back to her mother. Then he and Janet face a sunlit future.

At More's Theater.

Today—"The Call of Youth." Two young persons hear the call of youth to youth and mate to mate. In spite of their love for each other the girl is persuaded to marry the man who is helping her uncle and guardian out of financial difficulties. On the eve of the wedding day, with the youth in far away Africa, the girl realizes what she is doing and refuses to marry the man she does not love. He then goes to Africa and brings back the one she does love.

Saturday—Pearl White in "Beyond Price."

This is the story of Sally Marrio who is married to Phillip Marrio a designer of shoes who gives up his time to his business. While Sally sits sadly at home one day a Gypsy comes and sells her a wishing book into which she writes three wishes. That she may be the wife of a millionaire, that she may be a famous woman and that she may feed a baby's arm around her neck. These wishes have a most peculiar way of coming true, but she gets them all just the same.

Monday—"813." "813" is a mystery story in which Wednesday Nowell plays the stellar role. Robert Castleback returns from Africa where he has "cornered" the diamond industry. All the wealth in the world is his but he is not satisfied. He craves power and tries to carry out a scheme which he has to place a long lost prince on the throne and himself become the real ruler of Europe.

Long Orange, Jr., weighs 1,000 pounds. He is two years old. In fact, weighing the big Poland China male was a part of his second birthday celebration.

Among the herds of swine over Northwest Texas which are attracting attention, perhaps none has better blood lines than that of A. M. Bourland and Marvin Sharp. Long Orange, Jr., is head of the herd. He is a son of Long Orange, the famous 86,000 hog belonging to Alexander, Michie & Jones of Childress.

Long Orange, Jr., won third prize at the State Fair last fall, despite the fact that he was two and a half months under age. Messrs. Bourland and Sharp have more than 100 registered Poland Chinas, and their friends expect it will be only a short time when their hogs are sought after by breeders all over the Southwest. A gilt in their herd tipped the beam at 525 pounds recently when she was only one year old.

DETERMINED.

Dispute over a technicality in the golf finals played Wednesday between Ted Morrow and E. C. The controversy, entirely friendly, arose over whether or not Mr. Christian touched with his club a ball which rolled down from its tee.

In the semi-finals Tuesday Morrow and Christian were the victors. Morrow defeated R. B. Gibson 106 to 116, and Christian won over Morris 95 to 105.

The consolation flights will commence Monday. A pair of golf shoes will be awarded the winner, and golf stockings the runner up.

WOMANLESS WEDDING, PRINCIPAL TIRE OF MATRIMONIAL BLESSINGS.

Oh yez, oh yez, oh yez! A sensational divorce case will be tried in Vernon at the Opera House Friday night, August 5, at 8:30 o'clock. Prominent local legal experts will participate in a battle of wits and it is rumored that an abundance of scandal will be aired. Prominent witnesses have been summoned and the courtroom will in all likelihood be filled by some of the rarest beauties in this section as well.

It is all because the principals in the womanless wedding which occurred two years ago this month have become lackadaisical in reference to the joys of wedded bliss and desire a separation. The entire bridal party which took part in the marriage here at that time will be in court next week, to a person.

Musical And Singing.

The case will come up before Judge W. D. Berry who is quoted by those versed in the technology of courts as an authority on trials of this nature. Attorneys represented will be R. D. L. Killough, John Storey, W. N. Stokes, R. H. Coffey, and M. C. Cumberston. There will be music and singing in spite of the severity of the occasion during recesses of court.

The entire proceedings will be staged for the benefit of the local Civic League.

TO START BIBLE INSTITUTE

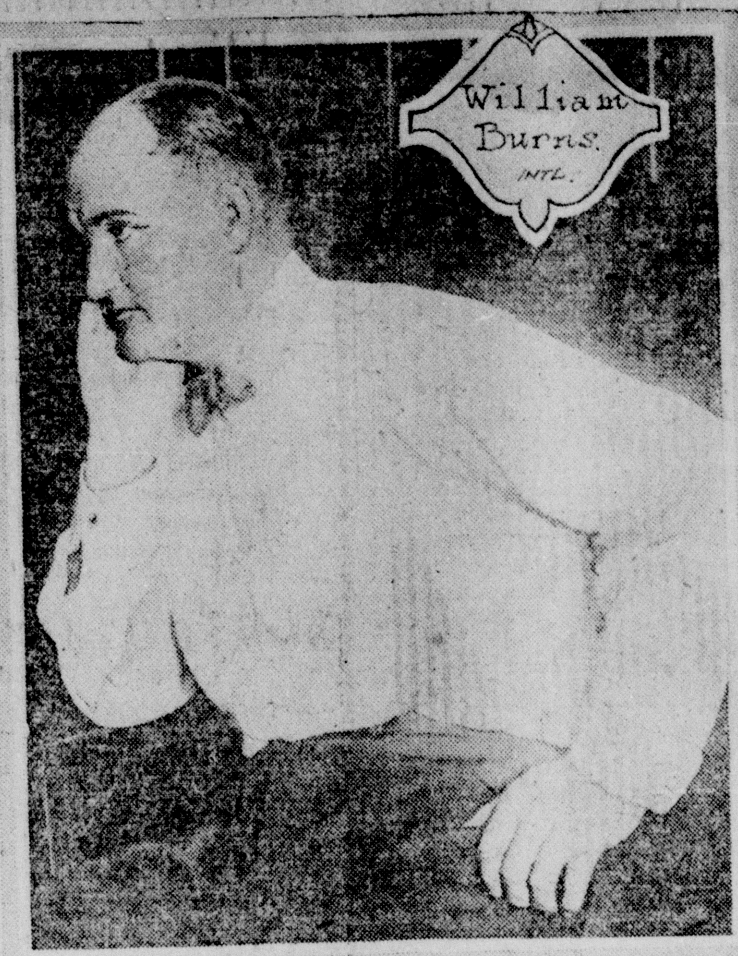

Classes Will Be Conducted at Oklaunion Daily For One Week Commencing July 31.

A feature in church educational work in Wilbarger county is embodied in a Bible institute which will commence at Oklaunion July 31 and last through August 6. The work will be under the direction of Rev. W. M. Read of the Baptist church.

Courses in the Bible will be taught and there will be a sermon each evening. Any worker will be welcomed into the classes regardless of denomination. Classes will be conducted each day.

The work will be as follows: Primary and women's work—Mrs. W. M. Read; B. Y. P. U.—Rev. W. M. Read; Soul Winning—Rev. W. T. Rouse. Reverend Rouse will preach the sermons each night.

STAR WITNESS IN BASEBALL SCANDAL.

Bill Burns, self-confessed "fixer" of the World Series games now being investigated in Chicago, was on the witness stand for twelve hours. Through these long, weary hours he went through a grueling examination which none of the attorneys for the defense could shatter. Burns, who had been promised immunity for his story, said he was promised $1,000 by the White Sox players, since indicted, for acting as a go-between for them and the gamblers, but, he added, he never got the money. The photo shows Burns as he appeared on the stand during the grilling.

INCOME STATEMENT FILED BY 176,547 TEXAS PEOPLE

Texas citizens to the number of 176,547 made personal income tax returns for the calendar year of 1919, as shown by figures from the Internal Revenue Bureau, returning net income to the total of $643,172,301, which was 3.18 per cent of the total incomes returned to the Government, and they paid in tax $32,302,280, or 2.45 per cent of the total tax paid. But 3.79 of the State's total population filed returns, and the average net income reported by them was $3,643.07 for each person reporting. The average per capita amount of income tax paid by Texans was $182.56.

Residents of Oklahoma to the number of 61,500 made returns for that year, returning a net income of $242,

184,301, which was 1.22 per cent of the total returned, and they paid in tax $12,207,129, less than 1 per cent of the total tax paid the Government. Three per cent of the total population made returns and the average net income was $2,937.96.

For the entire country the number of persons making returns for the calendar year of 1919 was 5,322,760, and the total amount of income reported was $19,859,491,448. The average income per return was $3,721.45. There were filed sixty-five returns, showing net incomes of $1,000,000 and over. The largest number of returns was 1,924,872, filed by persons with incomes from $1,000 to $2,000.

DEWEY LYON'S BODY REACHES NEW YORK

JACKSON SPRINGS BOY WAS KILLED IN FRANCE THREE YEARS AGO.

The remains of George Dewey Lyon, Wilbarger county boy who made the supreme sacrifice for his country during the world war, have been received in Hoboken, New York. A telegram to this effect was received Thursday morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyon of Jackson Springs.

Mr. Lyon was in Vernon yesterday for the purpose of filing an answer to this message, which action is necessary before the bodies of soldier dead are sent on from port of embarkation to their former home. When the remains are received in Vernon, the young hero will be laid to rest in East View cemetery with military honors.

George Dewey Lyon was a member of Company K, 144th Infantry, he served with that company on the Mexican border, and was transferred later to Camp Bowie, from whence he went to France with the 36th Division. He was 20 years old. His life was taken by an enemy bullet September 12, 1918. Two months later word was received in Vernon to the effect that Dewey Lyon had been killed in action. It was a casual message from Sam Randall, a cousin, who had been wounded, and was writing to his mother. He suggested, "I suppose you knew that Dewey was killed during the fighting in September."

Later on two other boys wrote home that they had seen the Jackson Springs soldier, well and happy. Unfortunately this was not correct. It was some months later before official notice was received by his parents of their son's fatal mishap.

E. M. Rogers' Home Near Completion.

E. M. Rogers' new home on south Cumberland will be completed and turned over to him next week by Contractor G. C. Hill. Mr. Rogers' house will be a two-story structure modern throughout. It will contain ten rooms, two baths, and a hall running the length of the house on the second floor. The outside will be set off by two large porches and also by the size of the extending rafters, which are made of four-by-four material.

C. M. Flench of Kansas City was in Vernon Wednesday visiting friends in this city.

INTERMEDIATE C. E. WILL GIVE FOLLOWING PROGRAM

MONEY FOR EXPERIMENT WORK.

People generally will approve the action of the Legislative Finance Committee if the seven agricultural experiment stations for which appropriations were originally stricken out have been restored. The amount necessary to carry on experimental work in various sections of the State was negligible. It was even more infinitesimal in comparison with the results that have been realized
from the experiments carried on, and
which may be expected.

Experimentation is responsible for
the marvelous advancement of the 20th Century in industry, in science, and in agriculture. In no other way is efficiency achieved and waste eliminated.

Without experimentation the world
would have not even the steam engine,
the telephone, telegraph or the phonograph. Farmers would be without the cotton gin, the reaper, or any of the improved implements they find so necessary. The list might be carried on ad-infinitum.

While The Record is not in sympathy with drastic reductions in salaries paid
to the teachers in our State University and Normal Colleges, yet the small amount required by the agricultural experiment stations might well be lopped
off of the appropriation for these salaries—if it can be found elsewhere—
rather than to stop our experimental investigations in agriculture. Better still,
the amount might be taken out of the more than $1,000,000 appropriated to buy land for the University at Austin.

One consolation for the stay-at-home
is that they don't have to build fires of mornings or go to the trouble of pulling
on a sweater as is said to be the case
in Kool Kolorado.

Although he's been running since 1896 William Jennings Bryan was arrested yesterday in Antioch, Illinois, for speeding.

CITIZENS MAKE THE TOWN.

It is almost trite to say that citizens
make the town. Yet so true is the statement—so obvious the fact—that it is frequently forgotten. Towns grow as a result of the efforts of individual citizens.

Vernon has been fortunate in its citizenship. Years ago good women planted trees along the streets, starting a movement that has made the town an outstanding community in all Northwest Texas. Two parks such as would be a credit to any community, a public library, and the Hill Crest Country Club
are all invaluable assets. And while the latter is a private enterprise, it has a community value which will make it more of a pride to the entire citizenship a score of years hence than now.

The gift announced Tuesday of two acres of land by Otis T. Bacon of Wichita Falls is an event of large importance because it evidences a civic interest without which no community can hope to make the best. As such
Mr. Bacon and his partner, Mr. Bentley, are due the thanks of all Vernons.
This is the more true because these men were not citizens of the town.

Merely having a financial interest
here, they recognize some obligation to
the community.

Doubtless all of these evidences of civic interest are but a beginning of the things which such spirit will impel others who are amply able to do for their home town throughout the years.

State Press observes that whenever a chicken marries a pig, as usual thing
they lead a cat and dog life.

At least the rats will be jubilant over
action of the Legislature in refusing any money for eliminating that pest.

clothes as possible" is the advice of a Chicago newspaper to women for combating the heat wave. Why advise that?

TOO LITTLE FOR SCHOOLS.

Vernon is proud of her schools.
Recognition is given work done here by leading colleges and universities all over the South.

The suggestion is made, however,
that our courses of study are more limited than is desirable—little work being offered in foreign languages, and none
in manual training or home economics.
There is need, too, of an adequate high school building—one commensurate with the scholastic population and municipal wealth.

Plans have been made for adding courses of study in some of the subjects which have been omitted. Other courses can not be added until more funds are provided, and it is at this point that Vernons schools are perhaps most remarkable.

Operating on a minimum tax of 50c,
it is remarkable that our schools have done so well. That such is the case is a tribute to the men responsible for our schools.

It must be, however, that the citizens will not insist very long that the assessment for Vernons schools be kept at 50c.

It Will Simplify The Problem.

"Railway solvency and efficiency are essential to our healthful industrial, commercial and agricultural life.
Everything hinges on transportation."

This is the chief justification, and
we may say it is adequate justification, of the President's proposal to
War Finance Corporation to purchase
railroad securities, probably up to $500,000,000, now in the hands of the Railroad Administration, so that the proceeds may be used for settlement with the railways.

Whether this will open the way to
"early adjustment and relief" of the railroad problem, as the President urges, remains to be seen, but it does offer the opportunity to improve the situation in the immediate future.

The President also urged that the powers of the corporation be extended
in the matter of agricultural financing.

Bills covering both of these subjects will be taken up by Congress, the questions being put in separate measures, and apparently there is a disposition to act promptly on them.

be prompt. We have no illusions as to the efficacy of such methods in restoring normal conditions in the coun-
come for a drive all along the line to remove whatever obstacles stand in the way of improvement. The problem of railroad financing, which the Government itself had a part in creating, can
at least be simplified in the manner indicated by the President. Let it be done, and done without delay.—Star-Telegram.

STATE SURPLUS IS REDUCED.

Million Dollars Below Total
of a Year Ago.

Texas will have a surplus in the State Treasury to the credit of the general revenue $549,000 on September
1, according to statement from the Comptroller's office in Austin. A year ago the amount was $5,336,000.

This was communicated to the Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committee for guidance in drawing bills. It will also be accepted by the State Automatic Tax Board as one of
the units of calculation in making the state tax rates this year.

It is this decrease of nearly $5,000,- 000 which has been worrying Governor
Neff and causing his effort to find some new source of revenue to avoid a deficit.

EXAMINATION FOR POSTMASTER HERE

VERNON IS INCLUDED IN TOWNS WHERE TESTS WILL BE HELD AUGUST 12.

An examination for Postmaster is announced to be held in Vernon August 12. It is stated that the Vernon office became vacant August 3, 1920. Postmaster J. V. Townsend was reappointed by President Wilson, but the Senate did not ratify the appointment.

Candidates will not be required to report for examination at any place, but will be rated on education and training, 20 points; business experience and fitness, 80 points. In addition to the full detailed information called for, the candidates must furnish in connection with each responsible position held by them a statement of (a) the number of persons under their supervision; (b) the character of business done; (c) the volume of business done annually; (d) the commercial rating of each.

Candidates must show that for at least three years they have held responsible positions in which the principal duties involved the management of business affairs or such positions in different branches of the Postal Service; candidates must also show that they have demonstrated their ability to meet and deal with the public satisfactorily.

To be eligible for examination a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, must be in good physical condition, must actually reside within the delivery of the office for which the application is made, and must have been next resident for at least two years next preceding the occurrence of the present vacancy.

The minimum age limit is 25, and the maximum 65 years. A photograph taken within two years must be submitted.

Doans News

Doans, July 29.—(By special correspondence.)—Miss Johnny Lee Baker of Fort Worth is visiting Miss Thelma Eaton this week.

Mrs. Mabel Igon and children; Inez, John Corwin and Maurine, left for their home, in Electra today, after a two weeks' visit with her father, C. F. Doan.

Hardin Ross and family and Horace Turner and family of Odell spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ross, here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Thompson of the Sherwood community are visiting. Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Eaton.

Mrs. Roy Watts and little son, Roy, Jr., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Strickland at Vernon.

Miss Alline Rowland of Vernon visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rowland.

Miss Nellie Howard of Sherman is a guest of her aunt Mrs. E. L. Blackwood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blackwood and children moved to Vernon last week.

The election passed off quietly, Saturday. A light vote being polled. All amendments were defeated except two. D. W. May and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ross held the election.

Fifteen votes were cast; only two women voted.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Moore of the Sherwood community attended Rebekah Lodge, Monday night.

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs are planning to attend the Lower Panhandle Association at Childress which meets the third week in August. Ten delegates and ten alternates have been elected from each lodge.

R. Miller returned from a business trip to Wellington, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hamilton were in Vernon on business, Tuesday afternoon.

The big dam on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hamilton is nearing completion. The dirt work is done and the rip-rap work is progressing nicely. When completed this will be one of the finest lakes in this section of the county. The share holders and owners are ten business men of Vernon. The plans are drawn for a club house to be erected at the highest spot near the dam. The house will be wired for delco lights and the "juice" will be furnished by the plant erected by Mr. Hamilton, that supplies his home.

Commissioner Sidney Archer was here this week directing the building of a new bridge on the lower road to this place. They also at the same time constructed a fill where the water at that point makes the road impassable in wet weather.

Mr. Archer is to be commended for his good roads work in this community.

Money, Money, Money.

We have an endless chain of money to lend on farms, in Wilbarger, Foard, Hardeman, and other Western Texas counties. Long time, and at rates as low as can be had any where.

101-tfc T. P. LISMAN & SON.

ON THE WING.

(By D. W. Leigh.)

Our work for last week began at Harrold, a thrifty town 15 miles east of Vernon, and located on the Denver railway. It is surrounded by a rich farming country but situated as it is between two good towns (Vernon and Electra), it can not hope to attain to the size of a city for many years to come. Threshing was in progress and wheat was moving rapidly to market.

Elliott (Bug-Scuffler)

A real live village five miles north of Harrold. The lands between the two towns are rolling and sufficient for proper drainage, but do not wash. The soil is classified as "light land" and adapted to grain including wheat, oats, maize, corn and feterita, and the crops are well advanced and maturing rapidly. The village is in the midst of a farming country unsurpassed by any community in the great Panhandle. Each farm is well improved, in a high state of cultivation and yields immensely. A few miles east one approaches a valley where the soil is chocolate in color and rich as Jersey cream. Anything grows to perfection insuring a maximum yield except wheat and oats. In every community there is a modern school building and Elliott has recently voted the limit of taxation to provide funds to improve hers and to increase the number of grades to be taught. To beautify the homes is not a mania of the people, but an inborn principle. Every farm house is provided with numerous shade trees, and the yards adorned with shrubbery and flowers. The housewives are neat and prepossessing.

Upon inquiry we found The Record in about 90 per cent of the homes, thus emphasizing their loyalty to home enterprise and the interest manifested in their county and its affairs.

Among the leading agriculturalists of the eastern section we mention Sam Kelly and J. Tom Haynes. The former is exclusively a grain man who, because the yield was a little short, only marketed 8,000 bushels this summer so his charming daughter, Miss Grace, informed us when handing a check to renew her father's subscription to The Record. Mr. Haynes raises cotton, corn, maize, alfalfa and hogs—Duroc Jerseys.

Rayland-Thalia.

After "doing" the east, we returned to Vernon very late Wednesday evening, proceeding to Rayland and Thalia early Thursday morning arriving within sight of the latter that evening and stopped over night. The little town in Foard county is in a good farming country with two main routes but if one should drive or motor a couple of miles east of the village as the writer did last Friday, he or she would come in contact with the "chimeras" and the deepest of sand beds. With wells flowing gyp water and no cisterns from which to draw a bucket of the aqueous fluid to quench thirst, the reader can imagine our predicament in failing to find an oasis until late in the afternoon. Crops, that is corn, cotton and maize, look promising in these sand beds, but a failure.

Returning to Rayland Friday evening, we found that busy mart of one general merchandise store of Swin and Stanley, wreathed in smiles and radiant with hope. The wheat was fairly good, cotton, corn and other crops are promising bumper yields and the people are tickled almost to death because Commissioner McCaleb has just graded the road leading from their town to Vernon. The busy little burg sits just across the line in Foard county, but Vernon is the market center for this splendid community with its many productive farms and tremendous trade. With a good road over which to haul their products, this city can easily control that immense trade.

With three weeks of strenuous work while old Sol did his best to discourage us, we formed many acquaintances which we hope will develop into lasting friendships. For the present we are through, but trust for only a few months. To those who encouraged the work by their subscriptions and renewals, words fail to express our gratitude; to those however, who by sarcastic remarks sought to offend, we hold no malice but over them we spread the mantle of charity because the unsophisticated deserve sympathy.

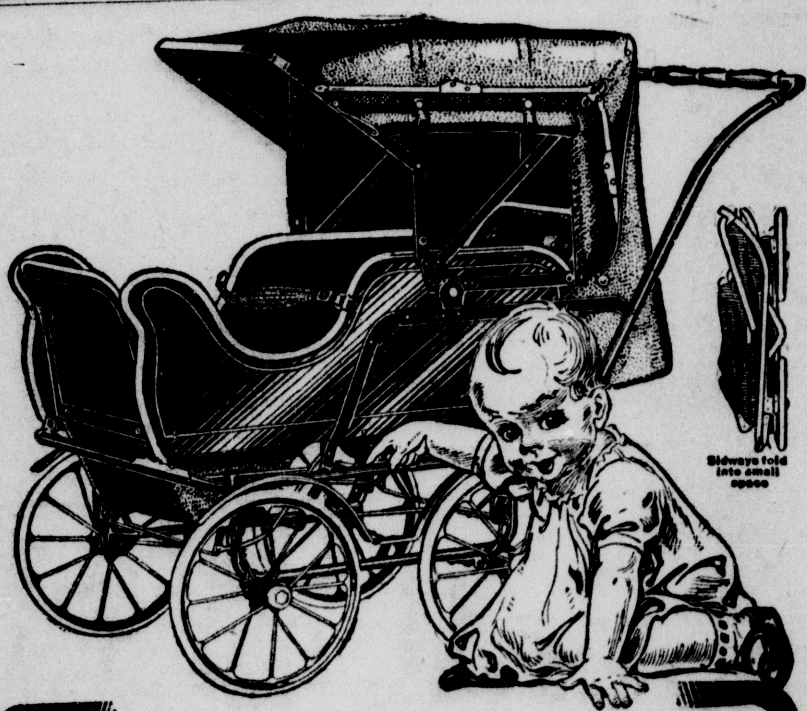

Roll of Honor.

Otis Luttrell, Carl Morris, Mrs. G. W. Burgess, Sam Kelly, H. P. Lucas, A. P. Mason, G. J. Schuman, W. J. Swinney, H. W. Jackson, J. L. Waggoner, D. T. Lowe, C. D. Walls, E. R. White, J. Tom Haynes, H. H. Haynes, J. W. Pilgreen, B. P. Abston, G. A. Schultz, H. D. Lawson (the alfalfa man), R. F. Derington, J. H. Jordan, J. D. Standlee.

During the week the "Flying Dutchman" and writer were entertained in the following homes: Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tom Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Abston, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lewis. Arriving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Standlee just before noon, we asked for dinner which was granted by Mrs. Standlee. Less than five minutes after our arrival, one of her large Rhode Island Red friars met a sudden death whose obsequies we attended sometime between twelve and one o'clock. With best wishes.

From whence do they come and where do they go—those cars which summer after summer stream daily through Vernon with their cargoes of equipment, luggage, and sun-burned tourists? Thus far the present season the migration has been principally from the east and south with vacationists heading up the Colorado to Gulf highway in impatient haste to reach the wonders of mountains and forests, Dallas, Fort Worth, and every town of appreciable size in Texas is represented in the cavalcade which speeds along the well-kept highway.

They come from all parts of Texas in every make of car—these khaki clad enthusiasts who are pleasure bound. Some set their rescue faces for the far Pacific coast, but the great majority are content to revel in the wondrous scenery and climate of the Colorado Rockies.

Is Filled With Interest.

The trip may be made in easy stages and is replete with interest and variety. Once the rolling prairies of the Lone Star State are left behind, the tourist ascends gradually into the foothills of New Mexico and southern Colorado. There are immense mounds of curious form and design in this section, and one is reminded of the legend and folk lore which credit the Indians with having made these masses of earth their burying grounds.

Once in Colorado, the tourist finds hard packed roads on every hand. The stoney soil affords ready material for such highways, and the state has been quick to take this natural advantage as an added attraction and benefit for its tourists. Even roads in the mountains are admirably constructed and maintained so that even the hardest rains do little but glaze off into the rushing streams of melting snow.

Denver Is Center.

Denver in the summer is the mecca of thousands upon thousands of tourists who find their way to the mile high city from all corners of the globe. One sees automobile licenses from Maine and Connecticut, from Georgia and Alabama, from Washington and California, as well as every state in the middle west. There is a superabundance of Texas cars on every hand, and the "Hi, there, Tex!" of the Lone Star tourist is greeted by an answering yell and toot of horns from his fellow statesman. Missouri cars vie in numbers with those from Texas, and one finds the Show Me visitors at almost every point where anything is to be shown.

From Denver one may set off in any direction toward the mountains and discover unbounded enjoyment in the beauties of rock ribbed peaks and swirling mountain streams. The mountains exert a peculiar fascination that grip with every growing intensity the longer one remains within their magic environs. There is a rush for the mountains every week end on the part of Denver residents, and it is said that a check kept on cars during a recent Sunday showed that 20,000 passed up Bear Creek canyon alone on the one day. A count burst down this particular gorge two weeks ago, however, has temporarily impaired travel on this beautiful drive.

Lookout Mountain is another favorite haven of week-enders, picnickers and tourists. A concrete highway stretches fourteen miles toward Golden, and at its termination hard packed gravel takes up the task of providing a pleasant speedway for the hundreds of automobiles that daily whirl over its surface.

Road Is Masterpiece.

The road up the mountain is a masterpiece of engineering skill and example of human perseverance. Wind ing up and over the seemingly impassable cliffs, it offers a caressing variety of hairpin turns and twists that are no less compelling to the tourist than the mountains themselves. From the summit one has a wonderful view of the mountains and prairies for mile after mile, and at night the city of Denver appears as though some unseen hand had gathered fat a fist of stars and flung them on the wind swept plains.

On the top of the winding lookout drive is the grave of William Cody, or Buffalo Bill, as he was more familiarly known. The last wish of the famous plainsman was to be buried on the highest point of Lookout mountain, and his final resting place goes with its iron fence enclosure as though it would touch the very heavens. Hundreds of personal visiting cards are scattered on the grave of the old Indian fighter, and there are wreaths from various parts of the country.

An inn on the summit contains many personal effects of Buffalo Bill as well as views of frontier days. There are tokens of esteem from King Edward VII of England and Manuel of Portugal, together with many from American nobles. From the porch of the inn one looks at the magnificent view through a huge telescope—especially placed for visitors.

Scenery Is Wonderful.

Scenery in the Colorado Rockies beggars all description. Distances are so vast, the air so clear, and the sky so blue that the newcomer is fairly staggered by the visions he beholds. Huge peaks fully fifty miles away appear within easy walking distance, and the novice is frequently tempted to clamber up slopes in what he judges would require a few hours in which in reality demand days to overcome.

Scenery is the stupendous feature of Colorado vacationing. Of course there is trout fishing, horseback and automobile riding, and the dry, cool, bracing mountain air, but after all it is the fact that no matter from what window of his cabin one looks, there is the boundless expanse of canyon, valley, and snow capped mountains that almost commands a sharp breath each time it is beheld. Postal card vendors have endeavored to the best of their ability to convey some idea of the matchless beauty of crag and gorge, and thousands upon thousands of cards are sent out of the state each year—but they are in most instances feeble reproductions of some of Nature's finest masterpieces.

Texas Car Everywhere.

One sees Texas cars everywhere in Colorado. From Packard to Ford they grind their way up steep mountain slopes. Some are travel stained and heavily laden, others appear as bright and fresh as though just taken from the shop.

Not far distant from Denver and within an easy day's riding distance is Idaho Springs, a popular summering resort. Not far from here is found Georgetown, and above this village the renowned Georgetown loop road circles around and around, often carrying above the clouds the traveler on the antiquated little train that puffs its strenuous way through gorge and over crag. And far above the loop, almost 10,000 feet in the air, is Silver Plume, appearing for all the world as though it had been plucked bodily from the heart of the American Rockies. Rumor has it that there is one section of town upon which the sun has never shined, and residents in the quaint little burg enjoy moderate weather only two months of the year.

The mecca of tourists to Colorado is, to all outward appearances, Estes Park. Located about ninety miles from Denver, the "nation's playground," as it is called, offers an abundant variety of entertainment. To reach the little town of Estes Park which is on the border of the great government preserve, one journeys along a highway leading through Big Thompson Canyon, noted throughout Colorado scenic annals for its rare formations and majestic beauty. Walls of rock hundreds of feet high rise sheer from a mountain stream that tumbles on its way with a roar and swish that echo from side to side.

Rocks of Wondrous Views.

Rocks in the canyon are of peculiar hues, and artists never dumber on canvas the colors so wonderfully blended here by nature. Here and there is a fisherman whipping his fly back and forth in the stream, and thundering continuously through the gorge come the big, red sightseeing buses from Denver.

Once in the Park one chooses his place of residence from a considerable number of inns and hotels. The Stanley, Lewiston, Elkhorn, Crags Stead's—these and many more afford excellent accommodations for the thousands of tourists who annually come into the Park. There are huge fireplaces in the lobbies of all the hostlers, and even though the month is July the pine log blaze each night is unusually welcome. Many of the inns are of rustic design and contain countless curios of provincial and historic interest. One of these, the Baldpate Inn, is modeled closely after the hostelry in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and the proprietors, a man and his wife, pose frequently for Eastman Kodak and Colgate advertisements. Long's Peak Inn, near the foot of the highest point in the Colorado Rockies, is conducted by Enos Mills, the well-known artist, writer, and naturalist.

The feature trip in Estes Park is undoubtedly the Fall River drive. One winds up to the dizzy heights on a road for the most part too narrow to permit the passing of cars and on many turns the automobilist is obliged to back in order to bring his machine around. At the terminus of the drive is the Great Divide, and banks of century old snow are on each side of the road. The view is magnificent, stretching down the canyon to where a tiny race gleams in the valley. One stoops and rolls a snow ball for a six pop at his fellow traveler, and in a moment the fight is on. Snow in July and at a temperature of about October! Below in the canyon one can see heavy banks of clouds and ere long these rise and the

EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD MISS DROPS 15,260 FEET.

Miss Phoebe Fairgrave.

Phoebe Fairgrave, just eighteen, who quit being a stenographer because she "couldn't stand being cooped up in an office," today holds the world's record for women parachute jumpers, with a leap of 15,260 feet. Miss Fairgrave made the leap before a crowd of fifteen thousand people. On landing she said, "It took every ounce of my strength I could muster to step out on the wings of the plane. For the first time in my life I was really scared. I jumped, and for the first two hundred feet I fell like a bullet. Then my parachute opened up, and I began to swing back and forth. At about two thousand feet I struck a dead air pocket and dropped straight down for two hundred feet more. After that everything went along smoothly until I landed, shaken but unhurt, in a wheat field."

Scenic Possibilities Endless.

Scenic possibilities in Estes Park are apparently endless. Fern Lake and Odessa, tucked high in the snow capped mountains, can be appreciated in no other way than through seeing. From the dark, glass like waters the heavily wooded slopes stretch up into the sky, and above timber line are the bare, hard outline of the rugged rocks. All is solitude and the very quiet of the surroundings lends an added awe and charm to the scene.

In another month the homeward exodus will commence. From peak and valley will come to Texas tourists by the hundreds, chugging back over the vacation trail. Soon it will be but a memory, those weeks in Colorado mountains. Next winter will come fireside discussions of past pleasures, there will be tentative plans for the coming summer, and then—the tent, the khaki, and all the equipment will be hauled from the attic and the whole trip taken over again.

FULCHER ELECTED NEW PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL HERE

County Superintendent Fills Vacancy Left by Resignation of A. F. Winston—No Provision Made As Yet For New Wilbarger Head and Attorney General Will Be Consulted.

J. N. Fulcher will be principal of Vernon high school for the coming year according to a decision made at a meeting of the school board yesterday morning at which the resignation of A. F. Winston was read and accepted. Mr. Winston found that business matters would not permit taking up the duties of principal and instructor as he had earlier thought possible. Mr. Fulcher is at present county superintendent of schools, and his selection as the high school head was unanimous.

According to a statement issued by the newly appointed principal this morning, he will accept the offer of the board. Mr. Fulcher indicated that his resignation to the commissioners' court would go in today. He has been county superintendent for three years, is a graduate of Denton State Normal and head of the Tolbert school for four years. He is well known throughout Wilbarger and possesses great popularity with local school patrons. Mr. Fulcher also studied at the University of Texas.

No New Head Selected.

No course of action has been decided upon as yet in respect to filling the vacancy left by Mr. Fulcher. According to Judge E. L. McHugh no provision is made for selecting a man in an emergency of this kind, and it will be necessary to consult the opinion of the State attorney general.

Further business at the school board meeting yesterday morning involved acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Clara K. McGaugh and the election of Miss Catherine Chapman to take her place. Miss Lucille Shank of Winona was selected as teacher of domestic science for next year. She is a graduate of the College of Industrial Arts and Miss Chapman a graduate of Baylor University. The board also authorized E. L. Dohoney to make tentative plans in regard to the installation of manual training in the high school next year.

WILL GIVE PRIZES FOR DEAD FLIES

LIONS' CLUB ORGANIZES CONTEST FOR BOYS UNDER 15 YEARS OLD.

Prizes will be given to any Vernon boy under 15 years old who submits the greatest quantity of dead flies between this time and September 30, according to plans made this noon at the weekly luncheon of the Lions' Club, held at the Elk Rooms. In addition, the lads will be paid twenty-five cents a quart for the flies by Rev. Gus Ramage, to whom they must be submitted.

The organization will welcome an offer of prizes from any merchant in the city. Thus far two have signified their willingness to contribute gifts, a Kodak from L. P. Kramer, and a pair of high grade shoes from H. C. Russell & Sons. The plan of the Lions' Club is along the aim of the organization to promote the civic welfare of the community.

It was decided at the luncheon this noon that similar meetings will be held each Friday noon. The fourth Friday of each month will be set aside for ladies' day. Eric G. Schroeder was accepted into membership at the luncheon today.

Till the Cows Come Home

"I am indeed glad to write you this letter. I was a terrible sufferer from gases in the stomach and colic attacks. The specialist our family doctor sent me to in Philadelphia, gave me no relief, although I took his medicine till the cows came home. He finally said I would have to be operated on. Luckily I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy then, and although it is now three years since I took a symptom of my old trouble since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO COUNTY PAVING

DIVISION ENGINEER SAYS PAVEMENT IS BEST IN DISTRICT.

A high tribute to the concrete pavement recently completed for 2.6 miles east of town is carried in a communication to the State Highway Engineer from Henry J. Cox, acting division engineer who inspected the Wilbarger county highway recently in company with H. Messigman, Federal engineer, J. B. Nabers, county engineer, and members of the commissioners court. A copy of the letter sent the State official has been received here by Mr. Nabers and is substantially as follows:

"The entire project has been very satisfactorily completed. The concrete pavement has the appearance of being the best constructed of any in this district. So far no transverse or longitudinal cracks have developed, there are remarkably few pits occasioned by clay balls, and the surface is entirely free from waves or other irregularities of section.

Structures Are Approved. "A triangular piece of concrete about eight inches long at narrow end was broken from the corner of a section by the roller. It was reexamined and that this be repaired by replacing with concrete about twice the thickness of the pavement and extending about one foot beyond the edge. It is understood that all structures were approved and accepted some time ago."

Fordson TRACTOR

Henry Ford Was Right When He Said:

"The Tractor will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life. I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth."

This tractor has done much—very much—in bringing true Mr. Ford's prophecy; for in it is a machine which has harnessed one of the most dependable, efficient, adaptable, economical sources of power in the world—a machine that saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time—a machine which many farmers claim plows, harrows or drills as much ground in the same time as four, six or even eight horses. And more—a machine that takes care of every power job on the farm.

Call and let's talk it over, or telephone or drop us a card and we will bring the facts to you.

SEVEN LITTLE TOTS GAIN HALF A POUND

ENROLLED.

Nineteen old members, seven new ones and three visitors were present at the fourth regular weekly meeting of the nutrition class conducted for the benefit of Vernon children Thursday morning. Of the nineteen previously enrolled in the class, which has for its chief purpose that of helping the little folks to attain their normal weight, seven had gained half a pound since the last meeting and were given gold stars on their cards. These seven also got blue stars for having had the required amount of sleep, and nine others got stars of this color. One child received a red star for having eaten cooked cereal every morning and for having drunk four glasses of milk each day. A total of twenty-four stars were pasted on the little folks' cards yesterday morning.

Miss Rose Ellmann, the public health nurse, who has charge of the class, talked to the children on the subject of fresh air. The usual half hour was spent in playing games after the health lesson had been completed and then the nourishing refreshments, consisting this time of cup custard and milk, were served.

Two Sections Necessary.

Miss Charlie Mae Northcraft and Miss Ruth Stovall assisted Miss Ellmann in the absence of Miss Edith Lacy and Miss Eula Goodfellow who have partial charge of the nutrition class.

New members have been enrolled at every meeting of the class up to date, according to Miss Ellmann, and because of this fact more or less confusion is caused and time wasted in making explanations to them concerning the work. For that reason she has requested that all others who wish to enroll come to her office on Saturday afternoon and find out the things required of them at that time.

The class has grown so much during the last two weeks that it has become necessary to divide it according to ages. More than thirty have been enrolled. In so far as possible Miss Ellmann has kept the children from 5 to 8 years of age in the Thursday class and the older ones she has asked to come on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, except where severe children from one family are concerned; in the latter case all were put in the same class so that they might still come together.

PRAIRIE DOGS FLOURISH.

Pests Still At Large In County—State Law Requires Their Extermination.

Although not of malignant nature, prairie dogs still flourish in Wilbarger county as is evidenced by signs in the country and inspection of various fields. In some sections the pests congregate in towns and their burrows cover several acres. Land thus occupied is naturally unfit for cultivation. Furthermore the rat like creatures consume considerable quantities of grain that in time entail enormous loss.

A state law requires all land owners to kill prairie dogs on their land. The method of enforcing the regulation is an automatic one. Any commissioner may report the presence of dogs to the sheriff, and that official in turn notifies the property owner to exterminate the animals.

Thirty days is given the land owner to comply with the order, and at the expiration of that time, if it has not been obeyed, the sheriff kills the animals and levies charges against the landlord. This law is being enforced to some extent locally, according to the county judge.

Dies of Dyptheria.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brezal died of dyptheria last night at their home in the northeast part of town. The child had been sick only a few days. Shortly before the death of the little son, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brezal died. Funeral services were held by Rev. W. T. Rouse Wednesday morning and they were interred in East View Cemetery.

Young Gotch Issues Challenge.

Young Gotch, who meets at Ackerman in a wrestling match next Monday night, has issued a challenge to George Stevenson of Amarillo in which he agrees to win two falls in ninety minutes or forfeit all gate receipts. The winner will take all in the event the debt is accepted Gotch expects to stage the match in Amarillo.

Is Alleged Forger.

George Breeding of Hardeman county was arrested Wednesday by the sheriff's force on the charge of having forged two checks at his many local dry goods stores. The checks were cashed on the Herring and Maggoner National Banks and were made out to McKibbin's and Freeman Bros. stores. Breeding is in jail here.

DEMAND FOR TANLAC BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Amazing Success Achieved by Celebrated Medicine Not Only Phenomenal, But Unprecedented—Over 20,000,000 Bottles Sold in Six Years—Foreign Countries Clamor for It.

Never before, perhaps, in the history of the drug trade has the demand for a proprietary medicine ever approached the wonderful record that is now being made by Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results throughout this country and Canada. As a matter of fact, the marvelous success achieved by this medicine is not only phenomenal, but unprecedented.

The first bottle of Tanlac to reach the public was sold just a little over six years ago. Its success was immediate and people everywhere were quick to recognize it as a medicine of extraordinary merit. Since that time there have been sold throughout this country and Canada something over Twenty Million (20,000,000) bottles, establishing a record which has probably never been equaled in the history of the drug trade in America.

Fame Is International.

The instant and phenomenal success which Tanlac won when it was first introduced has been extended to practically every large city, small town, village and hamlet in North America. Its fame has become international in its scope and England, Japan, Mexico, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Porto Rico and many European countries are clamoring for it.

From coast to coast and from the Great Lakes, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it with the most gratifying and astounding results and have pronounced it the greatest medicine of all time.

Tens of thousands of men and women of all ages in all walks of life, afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders some of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse, have testified that they have been fully restored to their normal weight, health and strength by its use.

Restored to Health.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour, gassy stomachs, coated tongues, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and of terribly dejected, depressed feelings state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by the use of Tanlac.

Picnic at Plum Creek.

Members of the Young People's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church enjoyed a picnic on Plum Creek Tuesday afternoon, following their meeting at the parsonage. Those in the party were Misses Ruth Carney, Ruth Stovall, Evelyn Alger, Maurine Davis, Bertha Bell Key, William McKinley, Ola Ferguson, Lizzie Reese, Ruby Seals, and Mary McHugh; Rev. S. W. Hayne, Robert Hayne, and Ewing Stovall.

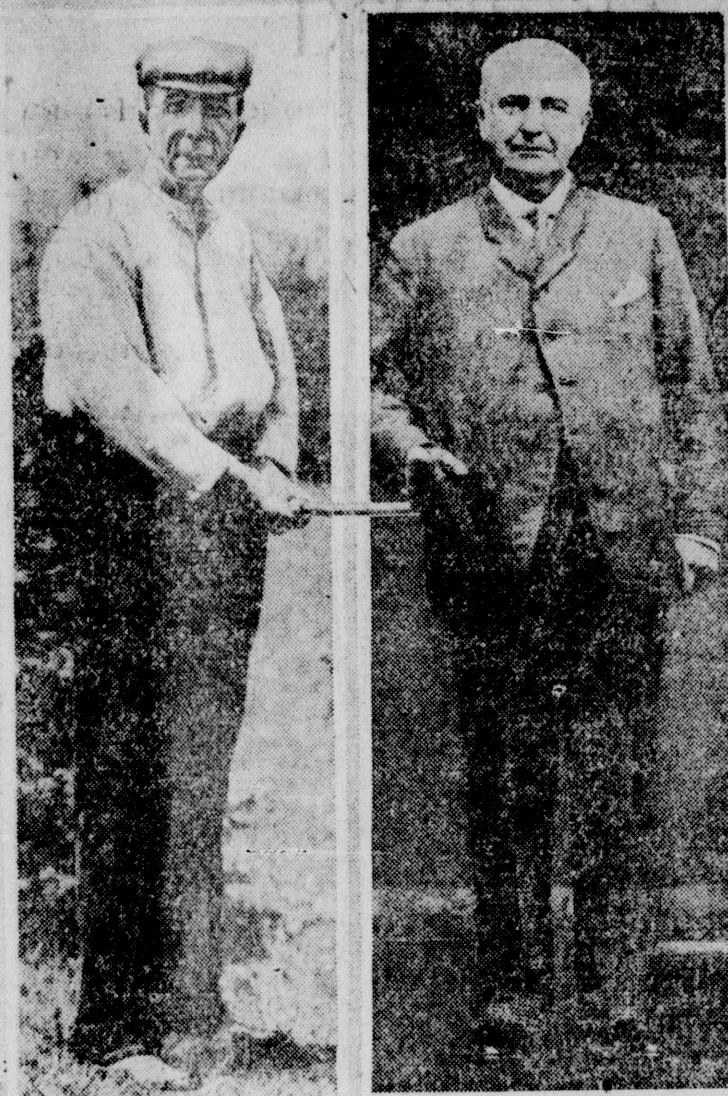

Edwin Lisman will leave tonight for Chicago to resume his operative work. Mr. Lisman has not as yet decided definitely what organization he will be affiliated with.

ROCKEFELLER TO GOLF AT 100, SAYS HIS PHYSICIAN.

John D. Rockefeller & Dr. H. F. Biggar, M.D.

The prediction that John D. Rockefeller, who recently celebrated his eighty-second birthday, will live to be one hundred years old was made in Cleveland the other day by Dr. H. F. Biggar, his physician and lifelong friend. The doctor, who is also eighty-two, looks forward to a golf match with the Oil King, when both have rounded the century mark. Dr. Biggar said: "Mr. Rockefeller is in better health now than many a man of fifty. Anyone who follows his sensible way of living can live to be a centenarian. Mr. Rockefeller once had indigestion, but he does not suffer from it now. He can eat anything, but he observes one of the prime laws of health and eats moderately. Often I have heard him remark, as he rose from the dinner table, 'I could have eaten more.' His good sense tells him that moderation in diet is a prerequisite of endurance." To Dr. Biggar is given the credit for prolonging the life of the world's richest man.

OKLAUNION GIRL IS FIRST IN STATE CLOTHING CONTEST

Ramal Butler Also Wins Third Prize at A. & M. on Canning While Vynetta Little of Harrold Is Given Fourth Prize on Clothing—School Outfits Were Submitted.

Wilbarger county stands high among the winners in the clothing and canning contests conducted at the State Agricultural and Mechanical College this week for girls. Oklaunion and Harrold are the two communities whose representatives won the honors.

First prize in clothing goes to Ramal Butler of Oklaunion. She also won third prize on her exhibition or canned articles. Vynetta Little of Harrold was given fourth place on sewing exhibit. The contest was open to girls from all over Texas.

These two young women won in the county contest held here July 16, with scores on clothing exhibits of 97.13 and 96 per cent respectively. They submitted the same outfits at College Station.

Miss Little has taken sewing in the Harrold high school, while Miss Butler has done quite a little of the sewing in her club work.

Make Entire Outfit.

Outfits submitted had to consist of a school dress, a princess slip or petticoat and corset cover, and a pair of teddies all made by the girl herself. She wore her dress while it was being judged and with it hat, shoes and stockings suitable for school. The three latter things were taken into consideration when the outfit as a whole was scored.

The school outfits submitted by Miss Butler and Miss Little were unusually attractive and well made for girls of 16 and 15, according to the opinion of the local judges. Mrs. O. A. Brunson, Mrs. A. C. Rogers, and Mrs. Shirley Cook. Miss Butler's dress was of blue chambray made after the style of a Hoffman middie suit. The suit of underwear submitted by her was of cambric, made rather plain except for the handwork on the hems. Miss Little's dress was of blue and white check gingham trimmed with solid blue and white rickrack braid. Her suit of underwear was also of cambric and was trimmed with rickrack lace.

VERNON DEFEATS CHILLICOTHE.

Local Legion Team Wins Tuesday's Game by Score of 8 to 5.

The Vernon post of the American Legion defeated Chillicothe in a close game of ball Tuesday at the fair park. Chillicothe played a fair game of ball but was outplayed by the Vernon Boys from the first inning. The score was eight to five in favor of Vernon.

MILITIA WILL BE SWORN IN FIRST OF NEXT WEEK

The local company of Texas National Guard will be mustered in the first of next week, according to an announcement of officers made this morning. A special officer will be here for the purpose. Captain Clyde Watts urges those who have not yet received notification to come to the local office immediately for a physical examination and to complete enlistment papers.

Between 55 and 60 members have joined the local militia company. Sixty-five men is the goal set. The soldiers will go to the militia camp at Austin August 14 and remain ten days.

Picnic for Memphis Guests.

Miss Ethel Haney was hostess at a picnic Thursday evening in Arlington Park in honor of Miss Elaine Bass of Memphis, Texas. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fischer, Mrs. G. E. Blackman, Miss Minnie King, Miss Bass and Miss Haney; Messrs. Walter Hoffman, Marvin McNutt, N. E. Hodge, S. E. Porterfield, and Luther Streiff.

COUNTY VALUATION FOR PAST YEAR BREAKS RECORD

Worth of Wilbarger Is Placed By Assessor At $17,180,630—Exceeds Figures of Previous Annum by $889,989—Reports Still Coming In—Will Net Revenue Around $95,000.

The total valuation of Wilbarger county for the past year, according to figures compiled by the county assessor, is $17,180,630. This represents an increase of $889,989 over the valuation of last year which was placed at $16,290,641.

This amount, it is expected, will be augmented somewhat by reports which are still coming in, thus raising the total still more. The valuation is the largest ever possessed by Wilbarger county. Wichita county, in the estimation of the county assessor, will be the only neighbor to equal or surpass the local valuation. Foard and Harde-man counties, it is said, are considerably below the amount.

Nets Large Revenue.

The State tax rate has as yet not been established, but the county rate will be fifty-five cents on the hundred dollars valuation. This will provide approximately $94,493.46 for Wilbarger.

WICHITA VISITORS HERE.

C. M. Mann Says Medicine Park Is One of Greatest Outing Spots in Southwest.

C. M. Mann and family are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Baird in Northwest Vernon. They came Wednesday.

Roads between Wichita Falls and Vernon are fine, according to Mr. Mann, who says that Wichita county has found it necessary to place two motorcycle cops on the paved road between that place and Iowa Park, and make the speed limit 25 miles between Iowa Park and Electra the pavement is being laid, and travelers detour via Kemp City.

Mr. Mann and S. E. Trevathan recently returned from an outing in Medicine Park, which the former characterizes as the greatest outing place he has found in the Southwest. The water is wonderfully clear, fishing and swimming are fine, and the scenery is magnificent. A man can climb Mount Scott, Mr. Mann says, and see the deer going from one section to another in numbers any morning. They have a trail between Mount Scott and Mount Wichita.

ODELL ORCHARD OWNER SELLS $150 WORTH OF PEACHES

W. T. Becknell, who lives one and a half miles south of Odell, has sold up to date $150 worth of peaches from his four acre orchard. Counting what he has used himself and what he has given away he estimates that more than a hundred bushels have been gathered. Mr. Becknell says his fruit began ripening the first of June and that he will continue to have peaches until October first.

There are peaches or several varieties in this orchard; some are Elbertas, some are other species of freestone and some are cling, the name of which the owner does not know. The fruit is as nearly perfect as any he has ever seen. Mr. Becknell reports, and the yield is as large. Many branches have been borne entirely to the ground with their burdens.

LOCAL PAVING WORK SOON TO BE COMPLETED

Work at paving Vernon streets will soon be completed. West Peace is already finished, and South Main will have the finishing touches put on it shortly.

Nothing further will be done toward paving the remainder of South Main Street. R. H. Standiford, local superintendent, stated yesterday. The one block, reaching from Marshall to Paradise streets, will aid immensely in communication between paved sections of the town, he said, but the remainder of the project has been abandoned. It was inadvertently stated in a previous issue of The Record that only half of the street between the Bailey Hotel and Carnegie library on North Cumberland Street would be paved, but all of it will be surfaced.

FEATURE MATCH SCHEDULED MONDAY

ACKERMAN AND GOTCH WILL MEET IN LOCAL ARENA FOR SECOND TIME.

Al Ackerman and Young Gotch are scheduled to meet at the arena at E. Texas and S. Cumberland Sts. Monday night in what the Vernon Athletic Club considers one of the best wrestling matches ever staged in Texas. Both principals are working hard for the contest and the red thinned Irishman is returning to Vernon Sunday with the determination to pin the husky Greek to the mat.

Gotch is fresh from his recent victory over Calleo and is working daily in the local club quarters. Ackerman has won three matches since his defeat here July 4, and reports that he has fully recovered from the injury to his arm which many credit as having cost him the match. Those who witnessed the grapplers on the nation's holiday will recall the high excellence and knowledge of the game displayed by both wrestlers, and it is a rare assumption that the go Monday will be a feature in every respect.

Women Are Invited.

Women are especially invited to be present by the Athletic Club. Thus far attendance at the events here has been extremely slim, and it is reported that $15 was lost on the match between Gotch and Calleo. The Vernon Athletic Club is desirous of retrieving the losses sustained in the last two matches as well as netting a sum for the benefit of the organization.

Wrestling and boxing preliminaries will commence at 8:30 p. m. and will be staged by members of the club. Admission will be $1.10 at the ringside, and general admission will be $0.55 war tax included in both prices.

KEMP CITY BURNED OUT.

Fire Destroys Oil Field Town West of Wichita Falls With Loss of $15,000.

Kemp City is only a pile of blackened embers and memory. The chief municipality of the Kemp-Munger-Alen district in Wichita county was partially wiped out by fire starting at midnight Monday. No casualties resulted.

The origin of the fire is unknown. All of the buildings were frame structures, three being two stories high. They were erected during the boom days of 1919 and 1920. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Special Meeting of Legion.

A special meeting of the American Legion will be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock in the district court room for the purpose of discussing the present difficulty between the Legislature and the Legion. Resolutions will be suggested and acted upon. All members are urged to be present.

Will Give Father and Son Luncheon.

A Father and Son luncheon will be given next Monday noon by the Manual Training Club of the First Christian Church in the church parlors. The meal will be served from 12 to 1 o'clock.

OPERATORS ARE NOT TAKEN WITH STILL

OFFICERS FIND 50 GALLON BOILER AND TEN BARRELS OF MASH.

A highly effective outfit for the making of intoxicating liquors was captured yesterday by Sheriff W. A. Ish. According to Mr. Ish, the manufacturers had probably been operating for two months, but had kept themselves hid until last Friday when Mr. Ish smelled a mouse and trailed the scent south. He kept quite about his suspicions until he had enough evidence to know the approximate location.

Early Friday morning, Mr. Ish with two deputies, F. A. N. O'Neal and J. W. Carrington, left Vernon in Mr. Ish's car "loaded for bear." They headed for the old Taxson place about eight miles south of Rock crossing on Caver creek. According to Mr. Ish, he wasn't overburdened by the information he was able to gather from the residents of the suspected locality and had to follow his own intuition; and that peculiar faculty aided by a sensitive nose led to the capture.

Abandon Ford Car.

Sheriff Ish and his deputies had to run their car through brakes, creeks, and thorn thickets, and when the Ford could go no further, they depended upon their feet to carry them through. They reached Minnow creek, and wading through mud and briars, they finally reached the suspected territory; but the task was only started.

Trees, thickets, and giant weeds were so thick the eyes could carry only a few yards, and there were miles to cover. They covered every inch of the ground as they advanced, up the creek and were within twenty yards of the still when their highly susceptible nasal organs detected the desired odor. Following the scent, they located the outfit on the banks of Minnow creek. The operators had disappeared and no arrests were made.

An Efficient Outfit.

According to the belief of the three men, the operators were well acquainted with their business. They had a fifty gallon steel keg for a boiler and had a large funnel soldered on one side of this barrel, and from the top of this funnel, the coil ran to the cooling barrel where water was kept cool by a pump from the creek. When the steam from the mash had condensed in the coil it ran out into a vat of charcoal where it was clarified.

They found ten barrels of mash made from meal, cornchops and canned peaches. Very little of the real stuff was located; but according to Mr. Ish, that which was found was of a superior quality and was as clear as water. Both the mash and the finished product was poured into the creek, and the empty barrels and still were brought to town this morning on Mr. O'Neal's truck.

Much excitement was caused when the outfit was parked in front of the court house, and many were deciding to go fishing when it was found that the mash and whiskey had been poured into the creek.

WILL BURY ARTHUR LLOYD'S BABY HERE

SECOND OPERATION FOR REMOVAL OF SAFETY PIN FROM STOMACH IS FATAL.

Funeral services for the seven-month-old child of Arthur Lloyd of Oklahoma City will be held at the residence of A. A. Lloyd in Vernon at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The body will be buried in East View cemetery. The baby swallowed an open safety pin the other day in San Angelo, and it was announced that a successful operation had been performed for removal of the pin. A second operation became necessary, which was too much for the little sufferer, who succumbed Thursday morning.

Following is a statement of the mishap taken from the San Angelo Reporter: An open safety pin, nearly an inch and a half long, which had been swallowed on July 3 by the seven-month-old child of Mrs. Lloyd of Oklahoma City, who is here visiting her sister, Mrs. R. D. Freeman, was removed from the stomach of the child at St. John's Sanitarium Friday afternoon by means of an operation. The child is reported to be recovering rapidly and physicians are of the opinion that no ill effects will result from the operation.

The case is one of the most interesting which has ever come before the local medical profession. The X-Ray was used in locating the pin.

The child swallowed the pin July 3 and physicians treated the case continuously until the operation was found necessary. No symptoms developed to show that the pin had lodged in the stomach and it remained only for the X-Ray to disclose this fact. Physicians took X-Ray pictures every day during the two weeks and were able to watch closely the results of the treatment. A clear outline of the open pin in the stomach showed up in each X-Ray picture.

Every effort was made to dislodge the pin but it being open, it stuck into the tissues of the wall of the stomach and could not be dislodged.

FORMER VERNON PASTOR IS MISSIONARY TO KOREA

Women of the Presbyterian Church of Vernon are getting ready a number of gift packages for Rev. and Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy, who are making plans to sail as missionaries to Korea. These packages are to be opened each day of the voyage.

Mr. Murphy was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Vernon located on South Main street, where F. L. Massie's home has been built. He left here about the time the two local churches were consolidated some three years ago.

Plains Visitors Return.

A. Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Heath of Wichita Falls came in last night from the South Plains, where they have been visiting Mrs. Dr. Moody. Mrs. Moody is a daughter of Mr. Allison and a sister of Mrs. Heath.

BARGAIN DAY TO FEATURE VERNON TRADE ACTIVITY

Second Monday of Each Month Is Set Aside For Offering Of Special Values—Co-operative Advertising Plan Will Be Followed—Merchants Lend Enthusiastic Support.

A bargain day on the second Monday of every month will feature trade activity in Vernon in the future, according to a campaign decided upon yesterday by chamber of commerce officials and local merchants. The plan provides that the merchants will give special bargains on that day and but two specials will be allotted to each dealer. No two merchants are to offer the same special bargains on the same day.

It is proposed to give away registered live stock each sales day.

The bargains which various merchants plan to offer on bargain day are to be put in a large co-operative advertisement. This will contain the specials of the individual merchants. These advertisements are to be submitted to the chamber of commerce at least ten days before Vernon Bargain Day, so they can be passed on by a committee of representative merchants. This committee will see that the articles offered as bargains are actually special values, and will also see that no two merchants inadvertently conflict with each other on their specials.

The plan also contemplates an auction where farmers can bring anything they wish to sell and it will be disposed of without any charge for the auctioneer's commission on the first Bargain Day.

Firms Sign Up.

Those firms which have thus far signified their intention of supporting the movement and which have signed a contract to that effect are: Perkins-Tinebrake, Baker Bros. Drug Store, Pictorium, H. C. Russell & Sons, Heath & Thompson, William Cameron & Co., Kramer Studio, T. J. Youngblood, Parker-Douglas Grocery Co., Swartwood & Co., C. W. Oliver, Freeman Bros., J. A. McFall, Hawkins-Williams Furniture Co., Brunson & Williams, Vernon Grocery Co., City News Stand, Candyland, E. M. Lentzler, Ferguson Drug Co., Bennett & Rogers, service Auto Supply Co., Times Publishing Co., and More's Theater.

The committee visiting merchants with the petition is composed of W. C. Baker, J. H. Timberlake, and Curtis Renfro.

MANY AT BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

H. P. Starr of White City Has Celebrated July 27 With Friends For Fifteen Years.

H. P. Starr of White City was host to members of his family and a number of friends with a birthday party at his home Wednesday, July 27. Mr. Starr has made this an annual affair for fifteen years, and members of his family look forward to July 27 with more enthusiasm than they do to Thanksgiving or Christmas.

Visitors began to congregate as early as 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, and long before time for the big dinner, the number had exceeded the capacity of the monster table. However, room was made for all, and the dinner proved a success. In the afternoon young members of the merry-makers drove to a nearby lake and enjoyed a swim.

Those present were: P. E. Starr and family of Wellington, W. P. Starr and family of Odell, S. B. Starr and family of Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kester of Odell, Dan Boone and family of White City, Grant Harris of Fort Worth, H. S. Starr and family of Vernon, W. B. Germany and family of White City, Walter Starr and family of Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Olen Turner of Vernon.

FINISH HARROLD TEACHERAGE

Two Story Home With Modern Conveniences Will Have Accommodations for Eight Teachers.

Harrold will have a home for its teachers this year. The building is being finished today. It is two stories and contains eight rooms, or frame construction.

The teacherage is modern, and compares favorably with the splendid agricultural high school at that place. Harrold employs eight teachers.

Local Money Dealers Believe Wheat Harvest Provided Saving Grace—Less Tendency on Part of Patrons To Borrow—Approaching Cotton Gathering and Will Aid Immensely.

Optimism is manifested on the part of local bankers in regard to business and general industrial conditions in Vernon and Vernon trade territory. The past wheat harvest bolstered wonderfully the hopes of merchants and patrons as well for relief from the depression that has made itself felt over the entire country.

Although there has been no material increase in bank deposits nor stimulus in the movement of money, there has been more of a tendency to reduce loans and less inclination to ask for additional funds. The money gained through the sale of grain has provided the means to make needed purchases and farmers have been able to avoid borrowing to furnish necessities.

Is Temporary Stimulus.

The present increase in trade is but a temporary stimulus due to the wheat harvest, in the opinion of G. C. Morris of the Herring National Bank. Merchants have become more optimistic, he said, and report better business than for some time.

In about another month, said Mr. Morris, the first of the cotton crop will be gathered and this is expected to prove a decided help. With its aid and the general upward trend matters should adjust themselves. A comparison with last year cannot be made due to the fact that at that time Vernon was still under the effects of the oil boom and prices were still going up.

Loans Reduced Little.

There is little alteration this month over last in respect to reduction of loans, according to Emory Rhoads of the Farmers State Bank. The wheat crop has not stimulated trade as much as it has simply served to balance it and prove a saving factor in industrial conditions. A considerable amount of money was thus put into circulation.

Mr. Rhoads is under the impression that there will be a turn for the better before long. The cotton crop, although materially smaller, is promising.

Big Feed Crop.

There is a tendency to reduce loans, said L. G. Hawkins of the Waggoner National Bank, but not much change in individual deposits. Prospects point to a fruitful year in regard to Wilbarger county crops and this will undoubtedly prove a saving factor.

The cost of moving the cotton crop will be much smaller this year, he said. Chopping and picking have been effectively reduced in price. Prospects point to a bumper feed crop in Wilbarger county and this item is always of immense assistance to the farmers.

Money Devoted to Expenses.

The wheat crop has stimulated Vernon trade, said J. T. Glover of the First Guaranty State Bank. However, much of the money gained has gone for expenses and has been spread out over a great deal of territory. Merchants report collections better, he said, but the money has in turn been sent to the wholesalers. However, the general situation is improved and with the cotton crop coming on the outlook is not in the least pessimistic.

IS RECRUITING HERE FOR TEXAS MILITARY COLLEGE

Col. Louis C. Perry, president and founder of The Texas Military College at Terrell, Texas, is in Vernon today recruiting students for the college. Col. Perry reports that the "T. M. C." at Terrell was the only military school of second class that met government standards for S. A. T. C. during the war.

Standard courses are offered from the seventh grade through Junior College, and the graduates are admitted without examination to college or university. Col. Perry plans to leave tomorrow, for he has to cover all West Texas as soon as possible.

Today and Saturday—Alice Brady in "Out of the Chorus."

This photoplay takes the spectator behind the scenes and gives him a close-up of the life of a chorus girl. Miss Brady takes the part of a number of the chorus who marries a wealthy man. The ceremony dispenses his parents who make life as miserable as possible for the young girl. She rises to the occasion, however, and shows them that her character is really more spotless than theirs.

Monday—"The Dwelling Place of Light," by Winston Churchill.

Janet Butler is secretary to Claude Dittmar, general manager of the Hampton Mills. Dittmar is carrying on a clandestine affair with Elsie, Janet's younger sister, and at the same time is making advances toward Janet. Elsie, faced with a terrible problem, finally leaves home and enters the true nature of her employer. The men under him strike and she takes their side and helps out their families in the suffering caused by the lack of work for the men. In this work she meets Brooks Insall with whom she falls in love. Her mother shoots Dittmar and Janet is held for the crime. Insall clears her, however, and brings little Elsie back to her mother. Then he and Janet faces a sunlit future.

At More's Theater.

Today—"The Call of Youth."
Two young persons hear the call of youth to youth and mate to mate. In spite of their love for each other the girl is persuaded to marry the man who is helping her uncle and guardian out of financial difficulties. On the eve of the wedding day, with the youth in far away Africa, the girl realizes what she is doing and refuses to marry the man she does not love. He then goes to Africa and brings back the one she does love.

Saturday—Pearl White in "Beyond Price."

This is the story of Sally Marrio who is married to Phillip Marrio a designer of shoes who gives her all his time to his business. While Sally sits sadly at home one day a Gypsy comes and sells her a wishing book into which she writes three wishes. That she may be the wife of a millionaire, that she may be a famous woman and that she may feed a baby's arm around her neck. These wishes have a most peculiar way of coming true, but she gets them all just the same.

Monday—"813."

"813" is a mystery story in which Wedgewood Novell plays the stellar role. Robert Castleback returns from Africa where he has "corrupted" the diamond industry. All the wealth in the world is his but he is not satisfied. He craves power and tries to carry out a scheme which he has to place a lost prince on the throne and himself become the real ruler of Europe.

Long Orange, Jr., weighs 1,000 pounds. He is two years old. In fact, weighing the big Poland China male was a part of his second birthday celebration.

Among the herds of swine over Northwest Texas which are attracting attention, perhaps none has better blood lines than that of A. M. Bourland and Marvin Sharp. Long Orange, Jr., is head of the herd. He is a son of Long Orange, the famous $6,000 hog belonging to Alexander, Micale & Jones of Childress.

Long Orange, Jr., won third prize at the State Fair last fall, despite the fact that he was two and a half months under age. Messrs. Bourland and Sharp have more than 100 registered Poland Chinas, and their friends expect it will be only a short time when their hogs are sought after by breeders all over the Southwest. A gift in their herd tipped the beam at 325 pounds recently when she was only one year old.

SMALL ILLINOIS GOVERNOR IS HELD AS AN EMBEZZLER

Governor Len Small, of Illinois, who has been indicted by the Sangamon County, Ill., Grand Jury, with Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling and Vernon Curtis, a banker, charged with embezzling $700,000 of the State's funds. The alleged embezzlement occurred during the administration of Governor Small and Lieutenant Governor Sterling as State Treasurer. The indictments followed an investigation into a $10,000,000 loan of State funds to Armour & Co. and Swift & Co., Chicago packers.

GOLF FINALS MAY
LEAVES WINNER UN-DETERMINED.

Dispute over a technicality in the golf finals played Wednesday between Jed Morrow and E. C. Christian rendered a final decision in regard to the winner impossible and it is probable that the match will be played over again. This arrangement is being left to the golf committee. The controversy, entirely friendly, arose over whether or not Mr. Christian touched with his club a ball which rolled down from its tee.

In the semi-finals Tuesday Morrow and Christian were the victors. Morrow defeated R. B. Gibson 106 to 116, and Christian won over Morris 95 to 105.

The consolation flights will commence Monday. A pair of golf shoes will be awarded the winner, and golf stockings the runner up.

WOMANLESS WEDDING, PRINCIPAL TIRE OF MATRIMONIAL BLESSINGS.

Oh yez, oh yez, oh yez! A sensational divorce case will be tried in Vernon at the Opera House Friday night, August 5, at 8:30 o'clock. Prominent local legal experts will participate in a battle of wits and it is estimated that an abundance of scandal will be aired. Prominent witnesses have been summoned and the courtroom will in all likelihood be filled by some of the rarest beauties in this section as well.

It is all because the principals in the womanless wedding which occurred two years ago this month have become jackalish in reference to the joys of wedded bliss and desire a separation. The entire bridal party which took part in the marriage here at that time will be in court next week to a person.

Musical And Singing.

The case will come up before Judge W. D. Berry who is quoted by those versed in the technology of courts as an authority on trials of this nature. Attorneys represented will be J. D. L. Killough, John Storey, W. N. Stokes, R. H. Coffey, and M. C. Culbertson. There will be music and singing in spite of the severity of the occasion during recesses of court.

The entire proceedings will be staged for the benefit of the local Civic League.

TO START BIBLE INSTITUTE

Classes Will Be Conducted at Oklahoma Daily For One Week Commencing July 31.

A feature in church educational work in Wilbarger county is embodied in a Bible institute which will commence at Oklahoma July 31 and last through August 6. The work will be under the direction of Rev. W. M. Read of the Baptist church.

Courses in the Bible will be taught and there will be a sermon each evening. Any worker will be welcomed into the classes regardless of denomination. Classes will be conducted each day.

The work will be as follows: Primary and women's work—Mrs. W. M. Read; B. Y. P. U.—Rev. W. M. Read; Soul Winning—Rev. W. T. Rouse. Reverend Rouse will preach the sermons each night.

STAR WITNESS IN BASEBALL SCANDAL.

Bill Burns, self-confessed "fixer" of the World Series games now being investigated in Chicago, was on the witness stand for twelve hours. Through these long, weary hours he went through a grueling examination which none of the attorneys for the defense could shatter. Burns, who had been promised immunity for his story, said he was promised $1,000 by the White Sox players, since indicted, for acting as a go-between for them and the gamblers, but, he added, he never got the money. The photo shows Burns as he appeared on the stand during the grilling.

INCOME STATEMENT FILED

BY 176,547 TEXAS PEOPLE

Texas citizens to the number of 176,547 made personal income tax returns for the calendar year of 1919, as shown by figures from the Internal Revenue Bureau, returning net income to the total of $843,172,201, which was 3.18 per cent of the total incomes reported to the Government, and they paid in tax $32,302,280, or 2.45 per cent of the total tax paid. But 3.79 of the State's total population filed returns, and the average net income reported by them was $3,643.07 for each person reporting. The average per capita amount of income tax paid by Texans was $182.93.

Residents of Oklahoma to the number of 61,500 made returns for that year, returning a net income of $242, 184,201, which was 1.22 per cent of the total returned, and they paid in tax $12,207,129, less than 1 per cent of the total tax paid the Government. Three per cent of the total population made returns and the average net income was $3,937.96.

For the entire country the number of persons making returns for the calendar year of 1919 was 5,322,760, and the total amount of income reported was $19,859,491,448. The average income per return was $3,721.45. There were filed sixty-five returns, showing net incomes of $1,000,000 and over. The largest number of returns was 1,924,872, filed by persons with incomes from $1,000 to $2,000.

DEWEY LYON'S BODY REACHES NEW YORK

JACKSON SPRINGS BOY WAS KILLED IN FRANCE THREE YEARS AGO.

The remains of George Dewey Lyon, Wilbarger county boy who made the supreme sacrifice for his country during the world war, have been received in Hoboken, New York. A telegram to this effect was received Thursday morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyon of Jackson Springs.

Mr. Lyon was in Vernon yesterday for the purpose of filing an answer to this message, which action is necessary before the bodies of soldier dead are sent on from port of destination to their former home. When the remains are received in Vernon, the young hero will be laid to rest in East View cemetery with military honors.

George Dewey Lyon was a member of Company K, 144th Infantry. He served with that company on the Mexican border, and was transferred later to Camp Bowie, from whence he went to France with the 36th Division. He was 20 years old. His life was taken by an enemy bullet September 12, 1918. Two months later word was received in Vernon to the effect that Dewey Lyon had been killed in action. It was a casual message from Sam Randall, a cousin, who had been wounded, and was writing to his mother. He suggested, "I suppose you knew that Dewey was killed during the fighting in September."

Later on two other boys were home that they had seen the Jackson Springs soldier, well and happy. Unfortunately this was not correct. It was some months later before official notice was received by his parents of their son's fatal mishap.

E. M. Rogers' Home Near Completion.

E. M. Rogers' new home on south Cumberland will be completed and turned over to him next week by Contractor G. C. Hill. Mr. Rogers' house will be a two-story structure modern throughout. It will contain ten rooms, two baths, and a hall running the length of the house on the second floor. The outside will be set off by two large porches and also by the size of the extending rafters, which are made of four-by-four material.

C. M. Fleuch of Kansas City was in Vernon Wednesday visiting friends in this city.

INTERMEDIATE C. E. WILL GIVE FOLLOWING PROGRAM

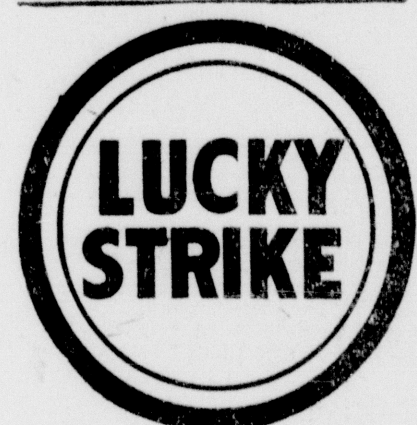

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church will give the following program at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the subject of "Indians." Scripture lesson, Isaiah 61:9; song: the Lord's Prayer in unison; song: sentence prayers; questions: 1. Where did the Indians come from? 2. Tell about good Indians; 3. Tell about bad ones in history; 4. Tell about some noted Indians in history; 5. What of the Indians of today? 6. What is the U. S. A. doing for the Indians? 7. What is the Church doing for the Indians? Indian arrows; A quiz on famous Missionaries to the Indians; closing song; Mizpah benediction. Robert Stokes will be the leader of the meeting.

Odd Fellows Notice.

The local I. O. O. F. will meet Monday night for degree work, and also take up some routine business. Refreshments will be served. Let every member be present as we want a good representation.

Cemetery Association to Meet.

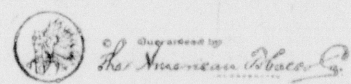

The Cemetery Association is called to meet in the basement of the Carnegie library at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Matters of importance are to be transacted.

MONEY FOR EXPERIMENT WORK.

People generally will approve the action of the Legislative Finance Committee if the seven agricultural experiment stations for which appropriations were originally stricken out have been restored. The amount necessary to carry on experimental work in various sections of the State was negligible. It was even more infinitesimal in comparison with the results that have been realized from the experiments carried on, and which may be expected.

Experimentation is responsible for the marvelous advancement of the 20th Century in industry, in science, and in agriculture. In no other way is efficiency achieved and waste eliminated.

Without experimentation the world would have not even the steam engine, the telephone, telegraph or the phonograph. Farmers would be without the cotton gin, the reaper, or any of the improved implements they find so necessary. The list might be carried on ad infinitum.

While The Record is not in sympathy with drastic reductions in salaries paid to the teachers in our State University and Normal Colleges, yet the small amount required by the agricultural experiment stations might well be lopped off of the appropriation for these salaries—if it can be found elsewhere—rather than to stop our experimental investigations in agriculture. Better still, the amount might be taken out of the more than $1,000,000 appropriated to buy land for the University at Austin.

One consolation for the stay-at-home is that they don't have to build fires of mornings or go to the trouble of pulling on a sweater as is said to be the case in Kool Kolorado.

Although he's been running since 1896 William Jennings Bryan was arrested yesterday in Antioch, Illinois, for speeding.

CITIZENS MAKE THE TOWN.

It is almost trite to say that citizens make the town. Yet so true is the statement—so obvious the fact—that it is frequently forgotten. Towns grow as a result of the efforts of individual citizens.

Vernon has been fortunate in its citizenship. Years ago good women planted trees along the streets, starting a movement that has made the town an outstanding community in all Northwest Texas. Two parks such as would be a credit to any community, a public library, and the Hill Crest Country Club are all invaluable assets. And while the latter is a private enterprise, it has a community value which will make it more of a pride to the entire citizenship a score of years hence than now.

The gift announced Tuesday of two acres of land by Otis T. Bacon of Wichita Falls is an event of large importance because it evidences a civic interest without which no community can hope to make the best. As such Mr. Bacon and his partner, Mr. Bentley, are due the thanks of all Vernon. This is the more true because these men were not citizens of the town. Merely having a financial interest here, they recognize some obligation to the community.

Doubtless all of these evidences of civic interest are but a beginning of the things which such spirit will impel others who are amply able to do for their home town throughout the years.

State Press observes that whenever a chicken marries a pig, as usual thing they lead a cat and dog life.

At least the rats will be jubilant over action of the Legislature in refusing any money for eliminating that pest.

"Be sensible and wear as few clothes as possible" is the advice of a Chicago newspaper to women for combatting the heat wave. Why advise that?

TOO LITTLE FOR SCHOOLS.

Vernon is proud of her schools. Recognition is given work done here by leading colleges and universities all over the South.

The suggestion is made, however, that our courses of study are more limited than is desirable—little work being offered in foreign languages, and none in manual training or home economics. There is need, too, of an adequate high school building—one commensurate with the scholastic population and municipal wealth.

Plans have been made for adding courses of study in some of the subjects which have been omitted. Other courses can not be added until more funds are provided, and it is at this point that Vernon schools are perhaps most remarkable.

Operating on a minimum tax of 50c, it is remarkable that our schools have done so well. That such is the case is a tribute to the men responsible for our schools.

It must be, however, that the citizens will not insist very long that the assessment for Vernon schools be kept at 50c.

Current Comments

It Will Simplify The Problem.

"Railway solvency and efficiency are essential to our healthful industrial, commercial and agricultural life. Everything hinges on transportation."

This is the chief justification, and we may say it is adequate justification, of the President's proposal to Congress to extend authority to the War Finance Corporation to purchase railroad securities, probably up to $500,000,000, now in the hands of the Railroad Administration, so that the proceeds may be used for settlement with the railroads.

Whether this will open the way to "early adjustment and relief" of the railroad problem, as the President urges, remains to be seen, but it does offer the opportunity to improve the situation in the immediate future.

The President also urged that the powers of the corporation be extended in the matter of agricultural financing.

Bills covering both of these subjects will be taken up by Congress, the questions being put in separate measures, and apparently there is a disposition to act promptly on them.

It is to be hoped that the action will be prompt. We have no illusions as to the efficacy of such methods in restoring normal conditions in the country, but we do think that the time has come for a drive all along the line to remove whatever obstacles stand in the way of improvement. The problem of railroad financing, which the Government itself had a part in creating, can at least be simplified in the manner indicated by the President. Let it be done, and done without delay.—Star-Telegram.

STATE SURPLUS IS REDUCED.

General Revenue Fund Is Nearly Five Million Dollars Below Total of a Year Ago.

Texas will have a surplus in the State Treasury to the credit of the general revenue $549,000 on September 1, according to statement from the comptroller's office in Austin. A year ago the amount was $5,336,000.

This was communicated to the Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committee for guidance in drawing bills. It will also be accepted by the State Automatic Tax Board as one of the units of calculation in making the state tax rates this year.

It is this decrease of nearly $5,000,000 which has been worrying Governor Neff and causing his effort to find some new source of revenue to avoid a deficit.

EXAMINATION FOR POSTMASTER HERE

VERNON IS INCLUDED IN TOWNS WHERE TESTS WILL BE HELD AUGUST 12.

An examination for Postmaster is announced to be held in Vernon August 12. It is stated that the Vernon office became vacant August 3, 1920. Postmaster J. V. Townsend was reappointed by President Wilson, but the Senate did not ratify the appointment.

Candidates will not be required to report for examination at any place, but will be rated on education and training, 20 points; business experience and fitness, 80 points. In addition to the full detailed information called for, the candidates must furnish in connection with each responsible position held by them a statement of (a) the number of persons under their supervision; (b) the character of business done; (c) the volume of business done annually; (d) the commercial rating of each.

Candidates must show that for at least three years they have held responsible positions in which the principal duties involved the management of business affairs or such positions in different branches of the Postal Service; candidates must also show that they have demonstrated their ability to meet and deal with the public satisfactorily.

To be eligible for examination a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, must be in good physical condition, must actually reside within the delivery of the office for which the application is made, and must have been such resident for at least two years next preceding the occurrence of the present vacancy.

The minimum age limit is 25, and the maximum 65 years. A photograph taken within two years must be submitted.

Miss Alline Rowland of Vernon visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rowland.

Miss Nellie Howard of Sherman is a guest of her aunt Mrs. E. L. Blackwood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blackwood and children moved to Vernon last week.

The election passed off quietly, Saturday. A light vote being polled. All amendments were defeated except two, D. W. May and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ross held the election.

Fifteen votes were cast; only two women voted.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Moore of the Sherwood community attended Rebeckah Lodge, Monday night.

The Oddfellows and Benexans are planning to attend the Lower Tarrant Association at Childress which meets the third week in August. Ten delegates and ten alternates have been elected from each lodge.

R. Miller returned from a business trip to Wellington, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hamilton were in Vernon on business, Tuesday afternoon.

The big dam on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hamilton is nearing completion. The dirt work is done and the riprap work is progressing nicely. When completed this will be one of the finest lakes in this section of the county. The share holders and outsiders are ten business men of Vernon. The plans are drawn for a club house to be erected at the highest spot near the dam. The house will be wired for electric lights and the "juice" will be furnished by the plant erected by Mr. Hamilton, that supplies his home.

Commissioner Sidney Archer was here this week directing the building of a new bridge on the lower road to this place. They also at the same time constructed a fill where the water at that point makes the road impassable in wet weather.

Mr. Archer is to be commended for his good roads work in this community.

Money, Money, Money.

We have an endless chain of money to lend on farms, in Wilbarger, Foard, Hardeman, and other Western Texas counties. Long time, and at rates as low as can be had anywhere.

ON THE WING.

(By D. W. Leigh.)

Our work for last week began at Harrold, a thrifty town 15 miles east of Vernon, and located on the Denver railway. It is surrounded by a rich farming country but situated as it is between two good towns (Vernon and Electra), it can not hope to attain to the size of a city for many years to come. Threshing was in progress and wheat was moving rapidly to market.

Elliott (Bug-Scuffle)

A real live village five miles north of Harrold. The lands between the two towns are rolling and sufficient for proper drainage, but do not wash. The soil is classified as "light land" and adapted to grain including wheat, oats, maize, corn and feterita, and the crops are well advanced and maturing rapidly. The village is in the midst of a farming country unsurpassed by any community in the great Panhandle. Each farm is well improved, in a high state of cultivation and yields immensely. A few miles east one approaches a valley where the soil is chocolate in color and rich as Jersey cream. Anything grows to perfection insuring a maximum yield except wheat and oats. In every community there is a modern school building and Elliott has recently voted the limit of taxation to provide funds to improve hers and to increase the number of grades to be taught. To beautify the homes is not a mania of the people, but an inborn principle. Every farm house is provided with numerous shade trees, and the yards adorned with shrubbery and flowers. The housewives are neat and prepossessing.

Upon inquiry we found The Record in about 90 per cent of the homes, thus emphasizing their loyalty to home enterprise and the interest manifested in their county and its affairs.

Among the leading agriculturists of the eastern section we mention Sam Kelly and J. Tom Haynes. The former is exclusively a grain man who, because the yield was a little short, only marketed 8,000 bushels this summer so his charming daughter, Miss Grace, informed us when handing a check to renew her father's subscription to The Record. Mr. Haynes raises cotton, corn, maize, alfalfa and hogs—Duroc Jerseys.

Rayland-Thalia

After "doing" the east, we returned to Vernon very late Wednesday evening, proceeding to Rayland and Thalia early Thursday morning arriving within sight of the latter that evening and stopped over night. The little town in Foard county is in a good farming country with two mail routes but if one should drive or motor a couple of miles east of the village as the writer did last Friday, he or she would come in contact with the "chimeras" and the deepest of sand beds. With wells flowing gyp water and no cisterns from which to draw a bucket of the aqueous fluid to quench thirst, the reader can imagine our predicament in failing to find an oasis until late in the afternoon. Crops, that is corn, cotton and maize, look promising in these sand beds, but gardens, owing to dry weather, are a failure.

Returning to Rayland Friday evening, we found that busy mart of one general merchandise store of Swin and Stanley, wreathed in smiles and radiant with hope. The wheat was fairly good, cotton, corn and other crops are promising bumper yields and the people are tickled almost to death because Commissioner McCaleb has just graded the road leading from their town to Vernon. The busy little burg sits just across the line in Foard county, but Vernon is the market center for this splendid community with its many productive farms and tremendous trade. With a good road over which to haul their products, this city can easily control that immense trade.

With three weeks of strenuous work while old Sol did his best to discourage us, we formed many acquaintances which we hope will develop into lasting friendships. For the present we are through, but trust for only a few months. To those who encouraged the work by their subscriptions and renewals, words fail to express our gratitude; to those however, who by sarcastic remarks sought to offend, we hold no malice but over them we spread the mantle of charity because the unsophisticated deserve sympathy.

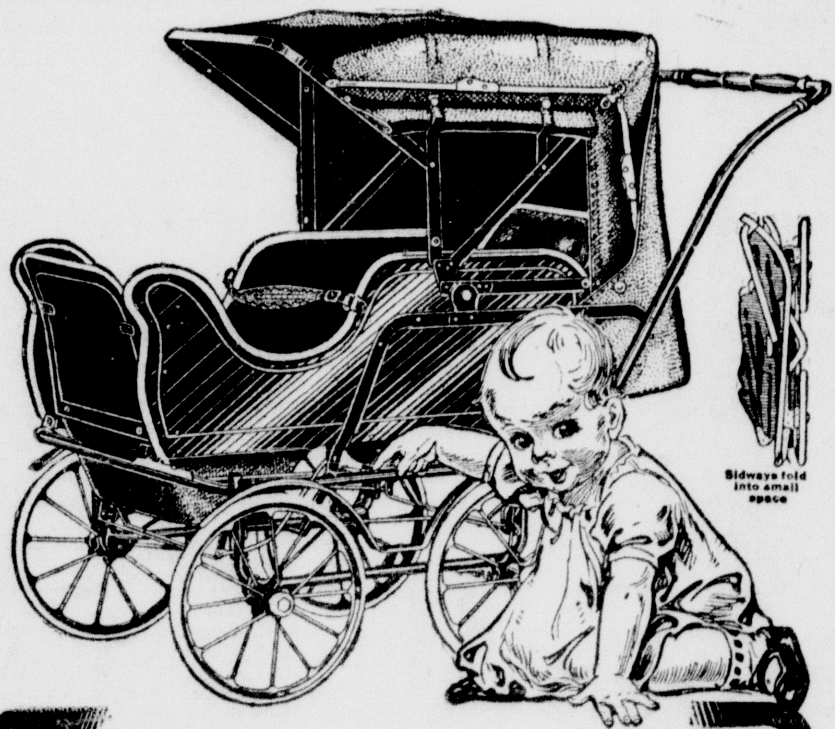

Roll of Honor.

Otis Luttrell, Carl Morris, Mrs. G. W. Burgess, Sam Kelly, H. P. Lucas, A. P. Mason, G. J. Schuman, W. J. Swinney, H. W. Jackson, J. L. Waggoner, D. T. Lowe, C. D. Walls, E. R. White, J. Tom Haynes, H. H. Haynes, J. W. Pilgreen, B. P. Abston, G. A. Schultz, H. D. Lawson (the alfalfa man), R. F. Derington, J. H. Jordan, J. D. Standlee.

During the week the "Flying Dutchman" and writer were entertained in the following homes: Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tom Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Abston, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lewis. Arriving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Standlee just before noon, we asked for dinner which was granted by Mrs. Standlee. Less than five minutes after our arrival, one of her large Rhode Island Red frars met a sudden death whose obsequies we attended sometime between twelve and one o'clock. With best wishes.

can be instantly adjusted to the weight of any baby. You can do it with two fingers. This feature of the Sidway is exclusive. Here are some other fine points of the Sidway—Mother handles it with ease at curbs. Large enough, wide enough for crib, but folds into very small space. Fabricoid tops (made by Dupont Fabricoid Company of Wilmington, Del.) keep out rain, snow, cold, make baby snug and warm. Best workmanship, materials, finish. Build like an automobile.

From whence do they come and where do they go—those cars which summer after summer stream daily through Vernon with their cargoes of equipment, luggage, and sun-burned tourists? This far the present season the migration has been principally from the east and south with the vacationists heading up the Colorado to Gulf highway in impatient haste to reach the wonders of mountains and forests. Dallas, Fort Worth, and every town of appreciable size in Texas is represented in the cavalcade which speeds along the well-kept highway.

They come from all parts of Texas in every make of car—these khaki-clad enthusiasts who are pleasure bound. Some set their resource faces for the far Pacific coast, but the great majority are content to revel in the wondrous scenery and climate of the Colorado Rockies.

Is Filled With Interest.

The trip may be made in easy stages and is replete with interest and variety. Once the rolling prairies of the Lone Star State are left behind, the tourist ascends gradually into the foothills of New Mexico and southern Colorado. There are immense amounts of curious form and design in this section, and one is reminded of the legend and folk lore which credit the Indians with having made these masses of earth their burial grounds.

Once in Colorado, the tourist finds hard packed rock roads on every hand. The stony soil affords ready material for such highways, and the pace has been quick to take this natural advantage as an added attraction and benefit for its tourists. Even roads in the mountains are admirably constructed and maintained so that even the hardest rains do little but glance off into the rushing streams of melting snow.

Denver Is Center.

Denver in the summer is the mecca of thousands upon thousands of tourists who find their way to the mile high city from all corners of the globe. One sees automobile license plates from Maine and Connecticut, from Georgia and Alabama, from Washington and from California, as well as every state in the middle west. There is a superabundance of Texas cars on every hand, and the "Hi, there, Tex," of the Lone Star tourist is greeted by an answering yell and foot of horse from his fellow stateman. Missouri cars vie in numbers with those from Texas, and one finds the Show Me visitors at almost every point where anything is to be shown.

From Denver one may set out in any direction toward the mountains and discover unbounded enjoyment in the beauties of rock ribbed peaks and swirling mountain streams. The mountains exert a peculiar fascination that grip with every growing intensity the longer one remains within their magic environs. There is a rush for the mountains every week end of the part of Denver residents, and it is said that a check kept on cars during a recent Sunday showed that 20,000 passed up Bear Creek canyon alone on the one day. A crowd burst down this particular gorge two weeks ago, however, has temporarily impaired travel on this beautiful drive.

Lookout Mountain is another favorite haven of week-enders, picnickers and tourists. A concrete highway stretches fourteen miles toward Golden, and at its termination hard packed gravel takes up the task of providing a pleasant speedway for the hundreds of automobiles that daily whirr over its surface.

Road Is Masterpiece.

The road up the mountain is a masterpiece of engineering skill and example of human perseverance. Wind-ing up and over the seemingly impassable cliffs, it offers a dizzying variety of hairpin turns and twists that are no less compelling to the tourist than the mountains themselves. From the summit one has a wonderful view of the mountains and prairies for mile after mile, and at night the city of Denver appears as though some unseen hand had gathered full a fist of stars and flung them on the wind swept plains.

On the top of the winding Lookout drive is the grave of William Cody, or Buffalo Bill, as he was more familiarly known. The last wish of the famous plainsman was to be buried on the highest point of Lookout Mountain, and his final resting place goes with its iron fence enclosure as though it would touch the very heavens. Hundreds of personal visiting cards are scattered on the grave of the old Indian fighter, and there are wreaths from various parts of the country.

An inn on the summit contains many personal effects of Buffalo Bill as well as views of frontier days. There are tokens of esteem from King Edward VII of England and Manuel of Portugal, together with many from American notables. From the porch of the inn one looks at the magnificent view through a huge telescope especially placed for visitors.

Scenery Is Wonderful.

Scenery in the Colorado Rockies beggars all description. Distances are so vast, the air so clear, and the sky so blue that the newcomer is fairly staggered by the visions he beholds. Huge peaks fully fifty miles away appear within easy walking distance, and the novice is frequently tempted to climb up slopes in what he judges would require a few hours in which in reality demand days to overcome.

Scenery is the stupendous feature of Colorado vacationing. Of course there is trout fishing, horseback and automobile riding, and the dry, cooling mountain air, but after all it is the fact that no matter from which window of his cabin one looks, there is the boundless expanse of canyon, valley, and snow capped mountains that almost commands a sharp breath each time it is beheld. Postal card vendors have endeavored to the best of their ability to convey some idea of the matchless beauty of crag and gorge, and thousands upon thousands of cards are sent out of the state each year, but they are in most instances feeble reproductions of some of Nature's finest masterpieces.

Texas Car Everywhere.

One sees Texas cars everywhere in Colorado. From Packard to Ford they grind their way up steep mountain slopes. Some are travel stained and heavily laden, others appear as bright and fresh as though just taken from the shop.

Not far distant from Denver and within an easy day's riding distance is Idaho Springs, a popular summering resort. Not far from here is found Georgetown, and above this village the renowned Georgetown loop that circles around and around, often carrying above the clouds the traveler on the antiquated little train that puffs its strenuous way through gorge and over crag. And far above the loop, almost 10,000 feet in the air, is Silver Plume, appearing for all the world as though it had been plucked bodily from some Alpine scene, and placed in the heart of the American Rockies. Rumor has it that there is one section of town upon which the sun has never shown, and residents in the quaint little burg enjoy moderate weather only two months of the year.

The mecca of tourists to Colorado is, to all outward appearances, Estes Park. Located about ninety miles from Denver, the "nation's playground," as it is called, offers an abundant variety of entertainment. To reach the little town of Estes Park which is on the border of the great government preserve, one journeys along a highway leading through Big Thompson Canyon, noted throughout Colorado scenic annals for its formations and majestic beauty. Walls of rock hundreds of feet high rise sheer from a mountain stream that tumbles on its way with a roar and swish that echo from side to side.

Rocks of Wondrous Views.

Rocks in the canyon are of peculiar hues, and artists ne'er dauber on canvas the colors so wonderfully blended here by nature. Here and there is a fisherman whipping his fly back and forth in the stream, and thundering continuously through the gorge come the big, red sightseeing buses from Denver.

Once in the Park one chooses his place of residence from a considerable number of inns and hotels. The Stanley, Lewiston, Elkhorn, Chase, Stead's—these and many more afford excellent accommodations for the thousands of tourists who annually come into the Park. There are huge fireplaces in the lobbies of all the hostleries, and even though the month is only the pine log blaze each night is unusually welcome. Many of the inns are of rustic design and contain countless curios of provincial and historic interest. One of these, the Baldpate Inn, is modeled closely after the hostelry in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and the proprietors, a man and his wife, pose frequently for Eastman Kodak and Colgate advertisements. Long's Peak Inn, near the foot of the highest point in the Colorado Rockies, is conducted by Enos Mills, the well-known artist, writer, and naturalist.

The feature trip in Estes Park is undoubtedly the Fall River drive. One winds up to the dizzy heights on a road for the most part too narrow to permit the passing of cars and on many turns the automobilist is obliged to back in order to bring his machine around. At the terminus of the drive is the Great Divide, and banks of century old snow are on each side of the road. The view is magnificent, stretching from down the canyon to where a tiny lake gleams in the valley. One stoops and rolls a snow ball for a sly pop at his fellow traveler, and in a moment the fight is on. Snow in July and at a temperature of about October! Below in the canyon one can see heavy banks of clouds and ere long these rise and the

Miss Phoebe Fairgrave.

Phoebe Fairgrave, just eighteen, who quit being a stenographer because she "couldn't stand being cooped up in an office," today holds the world's record for women parachute jumpers, with a leap of 15,260 feet. Miss Fairgrave made the leap before a crowd of fifteen thousand people. On landing she said, "It took very much of my strength I could muster to step out on the wings of the plane. For the first time in my life I was really scared. I jumped, and for the first two hundred feet I fell like a bullet. Then my parachute opened up, and I began to swing back and forth. At about two thousand feet I struck a dead air pocket and dropped straight down for two hundred feet more. After that everything went along smoothly until I landed, shaken but unhurt, in a wheat field."

Scenic Possibilities Endless.

Scenic possibilities in Estes Park are apparently endless. Fern Lake and Odessa, tucked high in the snow capped mountains, can be appreciated in no other way than through seeing. From the dark, glass like waters the heavily wooded slopes stretch up into the sky, and above timber line are the bare, hard outline of the rugged rocks. All is solitude and the very quiet of the surroundings lends an added awe and charm to the scene.

In another month the homeward exodus will commence. From peak and valley will come to Texas tourists by the hundreds, chugging back over the vacation trail. Soon it will be but a memory, those weeks in Colorado mountains. Next winter will come fireside discussions of past pleasures, there will be tentative plans for the coming summer, and then—the tent, the khaki, and all the equipment will be hauled from the attic and the whole trip taken over again.

FULCHER ELECTED NEW PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL HERE

County Superintendent Fills Vacancy Left by Resignation of A. F. Winston—No Provision Made As Yet For New Wilbarger Head and Attorney General Will Be Consulted.

J. N. Fulcher will be principal of Vernon high school for the coming year according to a decision made at a meeting of the school board yesterday morning at which the resignation of A. F. Winston was read and accepted. Mr. Winston found that business matters would not permit taking up the duties of principal and instructor as he had earlier thought possible. Mr. Fulcher is at present county superintendent of schools and his selection as the high school head was unanimous.

According to a statement issued by the newly appointed principal this morning, he will accept the offer of the board. Mr. Fulcher indicated that his resignation to the commissioners' court would go in today. He has been county superintendent for three years, is a graduate of Denton State Normal and head of the Tolbert school for four years. He is well known throughout Wilbarger and possesses great popularity with local school patrons. Mr. Fulcher also studied at the University of Texas.

No New Head Selected.

No course of action has been decided upon as yet in respect to filling the vacancy left by Mr. Fulcher. According to Judge E. L. McHugh no provision is made for selecting a man in an emergency of this kind, and it will be necessary to consult the opinion of the State attorney general.

Further business at the school board meeting yesterday morning involved acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Clara K. McLaughlin and the election of Miss Catherine Chapman to take her place. Miss Lucille Shank of Winona was selected as teacher of domestic science for next year. She is a graduate of the College of Industrial Arts and Miss Chapman a graduate of Baylor University. The board also authorized E. L. Dohoney to make tentative plans in regard to the installation of manual training in the high school next year.

In addition, the lads will be paid twenty-five cents a quart for the flies by Rev. Gus Ramage, to whom they must be submitted. The organization will welcome an offer of prizes from any merchant in the city. Thus far two have signified their willingness to contribute gifts, a Kodak from L. P. Kramer, and a pair of high grade shoes from H. C. Russell & Sons. The plan of the Lions' Club is along the aim of the organization to promote the civic welfare of the community.

It was decided at the luncheon this noon that similar meetings will be held each Friday noon. The fourth Friday of each month will be set aside for ladies' day. Eric G. Schroeder was accepted into membership at the luncheon today.

Till the Cows Come Home

"I am indeed glad to write you this letter. I was a terrible sufferer from gases in the stomach and colic attacks. The specialist our family doctor sent me to in Philadelphia, gave me no relief, although I took his medicine till the cows came home. He finally said I would have to be operated on. Luckily I heard of May's Wonderful Remedy then, and although it is now three years since I took a symptom of my old trouble since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO COUNTY PAVING

DIVISION ENGINEER SAYS PAVEMENT IS BEST IN DISTRICT.

A high tribute to the concrete pavement recently completed for 2.6 miles east of town is carried in a communication to the State Highway Engineer from Henry J. Cox, acting division engineer who inspected the Wilbarger county highway recently in company with H. Messigman, Federal engineer, J. B. Nabers, county engineer, and members of the commissioners' court. A copy of the letter sent the State official has been received here by Mr. Nabers and is substantially as follows:

"The entire project has been very satisfactorily completed. The concrete pavement has the appearance of being the best constructed of any in this district. So far no transverse or longitudinal cracks have developed, there are remarkably few pits occasioned by clay balls, and the surface is entirely free from waves or other irregularities of section.

Structures Are Approved.

"A triangular piece of concrete about eight inches long at station 105 was broken from the corner of a section by the roller. It was recommended that this be repaired by replacing with concrete about twice the thickness of the pavement and extending about one foot beyond the edge. It is understood that all structures were approved and accepted some time ago."

Society Entertain Bridge Club.

Misses Geraldine and Mozelle Parker entertained at their home on West Wilbarger street yesterday for the Thursday Bridge Club. Outside guests invited were Misses Vera Harrington, Della Dugan, Frances Lomax, and Katherine Hagler.

Two Marriage Licenses Issued.

A marriage license was issued July 23 to Ollie Goodall and Frances Johnson, negroes, of Frederick, Okla., and July 27 to D. K. Smith and Tilde M. B. Litton of Electric.

Fordson TRACTOR

"The Tractor will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life. I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth."

This tractor has done much—very much—in bringing true Mr. Ford's prophecy; for in it is a machine which has harnessed one of the most dependable, efficient, adaptable, economical sources of power in the world—a machine that saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time—a machine which many farmers claim plows, harrows or drills as much ground in the same time as four, six or even eight horses. And more—a machine that takes care of every power job on the farm.

Call and let's talk it over, or telephone or drop us a card and we will bring the facts to you.

SEVEN LITTLE TOTS GAIN HALF A POUND

ENROLLED.

Nineteen old members, seven new ones and three visitors were present at the fourth regular weekly meeting of the nutrition class conducted for the benefit of Vernon children Thursday morning. Of the nineteen previously enrolled in the class, which has for its chief purpose that of helping the little folks to attain their normal weight, seven had gained half a pound since the last meeting and were given gold stars on their cards. These seven also got blue stars for having had the required amount of sleep, and nine others got stars of this color. One child received a red star for having eaten cooked cereal every morning and for having drunk four glasses of milk each day. A total of twenty-four stars were pasted on the little folks' cards yesterday morning.

Miss Rose Ellman, the public health nurse, who has charge of the class, talked to the children on the subject of fresh air. The usual half hour was spent in playing games after the health lesson had been completed and then the nourishing refreshments, consisting this time of cup custard and milk, were served.

Two Sections Necessary.
Miss Charlie Mae Northercraft and Miss Ruth Stovall assisted Miss Ellman in the absence of Miss Edith Lacy and Miss Eula Goodfellow who have partial charge of the nutrition class.

New members have been enrolled at every meeting of the class up to date, according to Miss Ellman, and because of this fact more or less confusion is caused and time wasted in making explanations to them concerning the work. For that reason she has requested that all others who wish to enroll come to her office on Saturday afternoon and find out the things required of them at that time.

The class has grown so much during the last two weeks that it has become necessary to divide it according to ages. More than thirty have been enrolled. In so far as possible Miss Ellman has kept the children from 5 to 8 years of age in the Thursday class and the older ones she has asked to come on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, except where several children from one family are concerned. In the latter case all were put in the same class so that they might still come together.

PRAIRIE DOGS FLOURISH.

Pests Still At Large In County—State Law Requires Their Extermination.

Although not of malignant nature, prairie dogs still flourish in Wilbarger county as is evidenced by reports in the country and inspection of various fields. In some sections the pests congregate in towns and their burrows cover several acres. Land thus occupied is naturally unfit for cultivation. Furthermore the rat like creatures consume considerable quantities of grain that in time entail enormous loss.

A state law requires all land owners to kill prairie dogs on their land. The method of enforcing the regulation is an automatic one. Any commissioner may report the presence of dogs to the sheriff, and that official in turn notifies the property owner to exterminate the animals.

Thirty days is given the land owner to comply with the order, and at the expiration of that time, if it has not been obeyed, the sheriff kills the animals and levies charges against the landlord. This law is being enforced to some extent locally, according to the county judge.

Dies of Diphtheria.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brezeal died of diphtheria last night at their home in the northeast part of town. The child had been sick only a few days. Shortly before the death of the little son, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brezeal died. Funeral services were held by Rev. W. T. Rouse Wednesday morning and they were interred in East View Cemetery.

Young Gotch Issues Challenge.

Young Gotch, who meets Al Ackerman in a wrestling match here Monday night, has issued a challenge to George Stevenson of Amarillo in which he agrees to win two falls in ninety minutes or forfeit all gate receipts. The winner will take all. In the event the deft is accepted Gotch expects to stage the match in Amarillo.

Is Alleged Forger.

George Breeding of Hardeman county was arrested Wednesday by the sheriff's force on the charge of having forged two checks at his many local dry goods stores. The checks were made on the Herring and Maggoner National Banks and were made out to McKibbin's and Freeman Bros. stores. Breeding is in jail here.

DEMAND FOR TANLAC BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Amazing Success Achieved by Celebrated Medicine Not Only Phenomenal, But Unprecedented—Over 20,000,000 Bottles Sold in Six Years—Foreign Countries Clamor for It.

Never before, perhaps, in the history of the drug trade has the demand for a proprietary medicine ever approached the wonderful record that is now being made by Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results throughout this country and Canada. As a matter of fact, the marvelous success achieved by this medicine is not only phenomenal, but unprecedented.

The first bottle of Tanlac to reach the public was sold just a little over six years ago. Its success was immediate and people everywhere were quick to recognize it as a medicine of extraordinary merit. Since that time there have been sold throughout this country and Canada something over Twenty Million (20,000,000) bottles establishing a record which has probably never been equaled in the history of the drug trade in America.

Fame Is International.

The instant and phenomenal success which Tanlac won when it was first introduced has been extended to practically every large city, small town, village and hamlet in North America. Its fame has become international in its scope and England, Japan, Mexico, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Porto Rico and many European countries are clamoring for it.

From coast to coast and from the Great Lakes, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it with the most gratifying and astonishing results and have pronounced it the greatest medicine of all time.

Tens of thousands of men and women of all ages in all walks of life, afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse, have testified that they have been fully restored to their normal weight, health and strength by its use.

Restored to Health.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour, gassy stomachs, coated tongues, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and of terribly dejected, depressed feelings state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by the use of Tanlac.

Foster's Weather Report.

Washington, D. C., July 29, 1921.—A high temperature wave will cover the northern plains, northern Rockies and northern Pacific slope near August 2 and a moderate storm will be pushing from behind it. These conditions will cross meridian 90, moving southeastward, about one day later and will reach Atlantic coast section August 4 or 5. Not much rain from this disturbance; storms will be weak and of little importance; good corn weather where the soil is wet and bad where it has been dry; lazy, sluggish weather. The rain that comes from that storm will be located much the same as for the past three or four weeks.

This storm will end the monthly locations and better rains are expected for August in the middle southwest, including western Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Texas. July and August rains are always important to that large section. But severe storms are not expected in August and they are necessary to good rains.

A considerable number of subscribers to this paper have written private letters asking me to answer weather questions relative to their immediate vicinities and some editors have requested that I answer such questions. I always reply to such letters when a stamp accompanies them, but I am unable to answer all questions; sometimes I do not know; sometimes I would require too much work. I am very busy but I desire to be accommodating.

I gave remarkably correct forecasts, a year in advance, of the present great drought in Great Britain and the northwestern part of Central Europe. Six months ago I foretold another great drought that will be of great importance to man in all civilized countries. Australia, the East Indies, including the Philippines, southern China and India will be afflicted with a general drought, beginning with October, 1922 and continuing four or five months. Australia will suffer most. Greatest damages to crops will be in southeastern and northwestern Australia. The time of the great drought covers all their crop season, October to February, and will include their wheat crop, which is a very important matter to America and Canada. In about two-thirds of the winter grain sections of this continent winter grain crops will be good next year. Failure of crops next year in Australia and a shortage in India, southern China, the Philippines and New Zealand, means a big demand for our 1922 winter grain.

I know the causes of these great droughts and have not missed them for years and I have complete faith in these forecasts and advices. I miss the local temperature forecast some times, but I do not miss the great droughts. The farmers of this continent can increase their income by millions by sowing more winter grain than usual. Of course this will not apply to all sections.

Picnic at Plum Creek.

Members of the Young People's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church enjoyed a picnic on Plum Creek Tuesday afternoon, following their meeting at the parsonage. Those in the party were Misses Ruth Carney, Ruth Stovall, Evelyn Alger, Maurine Davis, Bertha Bell Key, Lillian McKinley, Ola Ferguson, Lizzie Reese, Ruby Seals, and Mary McHugh; Rev. S. W. Hayne, Robert Hayne, and Ewing Stovall.

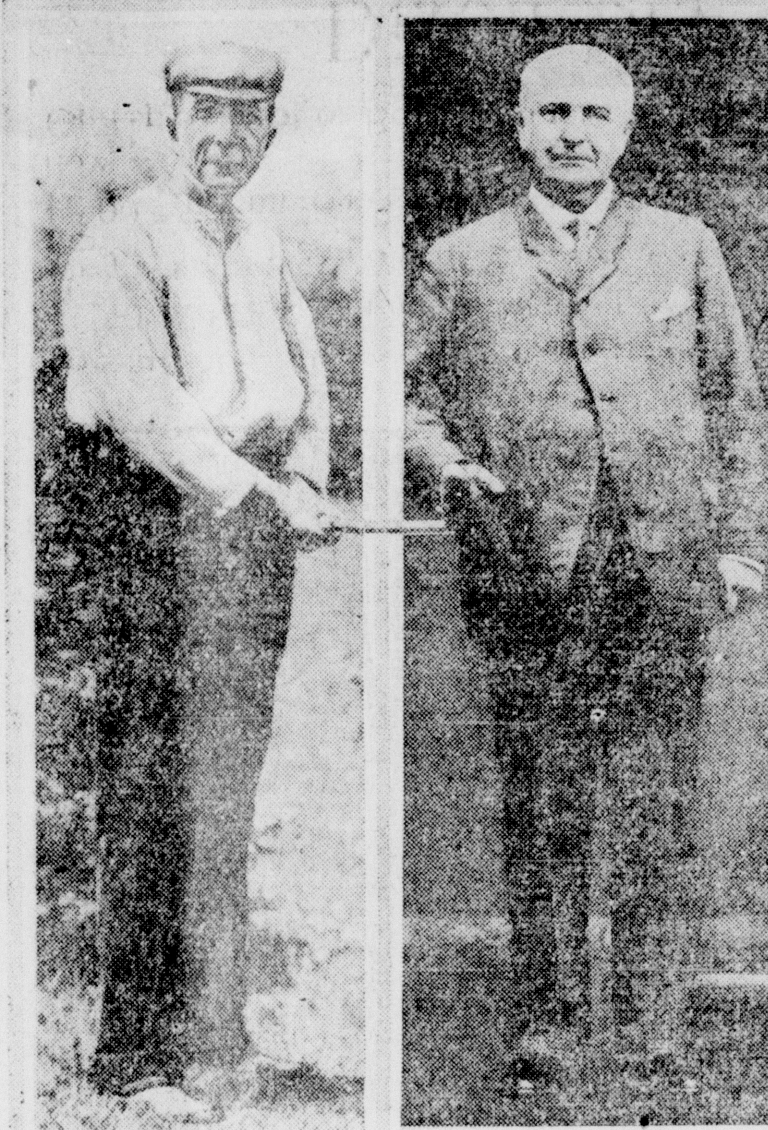

Edwin Lisman will leave tonight for Chicago to resume his operative work. Mr. Lisman has not as yet decided definitely what organization he will be affiliated with.

J. E. Starr of Wellington left for home Wednesday. Mr. Starr has been visiting friends and relatives here the past few days after a ten-day fishing trip to the Brazos river.

W. H. Lyon returned this morning from Hereford, in Deaf Smith county, where he went Monday to look after a farm. Mr. Lyon says rain continues to fall on the Plains.

Miss Mary Youngblood of Wilson, Okla., arrived in Vernon Wednesday to visit her aunt Mrs. Perry Griffiths, for about a week.

ROCKEFELLER TO GOLF AT 100, SAYS HIS PHYSICIAN.

John D. Rockefeller & Dr. H. F. Biggar.

The prediction that John D. Rockefeller, who recently celebrated his eighty-second birthday, will live to be one hundred years old was made in Cleveland the other day by Dr. H. F. Biggar, his physician and lifelong friend. The doctor, who is also eighty-two, looks forward to a golf match with the Oil King, when both have rounded the century mark. Dr. Biggar said: "Mr. Rockefeller is in better health now than many a man of fifty. Anyone who follows his sensible way of living can live to be a centenarian. Mr. Rockefeller once had indigestion, but he does not suffer from it now. He can eat anything, but he observes one of the prime laws of health and eats moderately. Often I have heard him remark, as he rose from the dinner table, 'I could have eaten more.' His good sense tells him that moderation in diet is a prerequisite of endurance." To Dr. Biggar is given the credit for prolonging the life of the world's richest man.
